

Weber, ACLU clash on fairness of drug probe

As a partial answer to complaints by an American Civil Liberties Union official, a professional drug counselor will be made available to "teenage witnesses," beginning April 22 when a Madison County grand jury resumes its investigation of drug abuse.

State's Attorney Don W. Weber said Tuesday that a staff member of the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency has agreed to be in a nearby conference room to meet with students who want to talk with the counselor.

Weber estimates that at least 60 persons will be summoned in the next two months, including witnesses from every Madison County high school. About 20 students are to testify at the County Courthouse next week, he said. Six from Edwardsville and Granite City were questioned in early April.

Jay A. Miller, executive director of the ACLU's Illinois division, said in Chicago this week that the effort to compel high school students to tell what they know about drug trafficking is "legal but irresponsible."

"There is nothing we can figure out that is unlawful about it (the grand jury investigation). If there were, we'd like to stop it," he commented, adding that witnesses' reputations could be harmed and their lives could be endangered.

Aware that Assistant State's Attorney Randy Massey has promised to "take every precaution to protect the rights of individuals," Miller says many of the parents of those issued subpoenas may not realize that obtaining the advice of a lawyer would be advisable.

He speculated that some youngsters may panic and lie to the grand jury, opening themselves to prosecution for perjury. Those who testify fully and accurately may face violent retaliation for naming drug distributors, he added.

All who are ordered to appear before the grand jury during such an investigation are tainted with blame through "guilt by association" in onlookers' minds, he believes.

"The approach is outrageous and clearly is poor public policy," Miller concludes.

Massey maintains that "not everyone called to testify is involved with drugs." He noted that some persons are being required to testify and that others, both adults and teenagers, have given voluntary statements.

State's Attorney Weber, a conservative Republican, acknowledges that the liberal-leaning ACLU is unhappy with him and says the feeling is mutual.

He comments, "All the ACLU has done is get prayers taken out of schools and nativity scenes removed from outside courthouses. We in Madison County would like to run our own schools, if that is all right with the ACLU."

Miller says it is not all right. He takes the position that the well-being of those being subpoenaed may not be sufficiently safeguarded. He calls some aspects of the Weber-Massey anti-drug campaign "unprecedented."

All parties seem to be in agreement that a large amount of drug abuse takes place at and near high schools, and that problems often result for the users of cannabis and other substances—problems that are in addition to such obvious hazards as arrests, subpoenas and prosecution.

Meanwhile, Frederick J. Hess was sworn in Monday as the new U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Illinois and pledged to fight both violent crime and interstate drug commerce through coordinated federal, state and local action.

Seek to reopen steel mill's pact

Richard S. Smith, a National Steel Corp. executive vice president, said in New York City this week that steelmakers will follow the auto industry's lead and seek cost-saving labor concessions in their present contract.

The pact between major firms and the United Steelworkers of America does not expire until August 1983 but could be reopened if both parties agree.

Lloyd McBride, USW president, said he had received no official word that steel firms want to reopen the present three-year contract before its expiration.

He did note that labor and management have completed a detailed study of steel labor costs and are discussing them informally. Employment costs are said to represent 34 percent of the expenditure to produce steel.

Smith told securities analysts, "There isn't any doubt that the steel industry will be seeking concessions from the Steelworkers, just as auto makers have done recently with the United Auto Workers union."

He said major firms plan to jointly approach the USW about concessions early next month.

Both car and steel production and sales levels are down in the U.S. due to the current recession and also inroads made by foreign producers, some of whom are believed to have lower production costs, governmental subsidies, or both.

The domestic steel industry is operating at about 53 percent of its production capacity. Out of 450,000 employees, about 100,000 are on either short-term or indefinite layoffs.

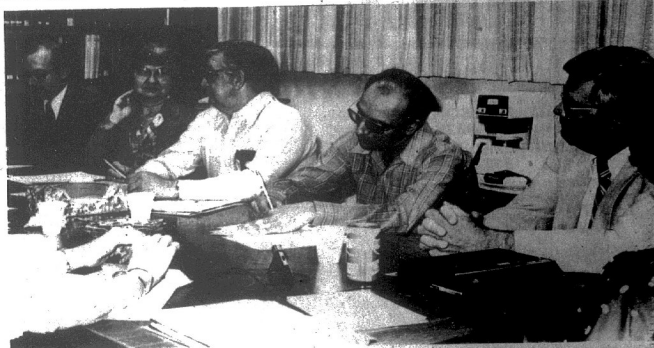

J. Bruce Johnston, U.S. Steel Corp. vice-president for employee relations and chief negotiator for the eight-company bargaining group, made an unprecedented appearance last week before the USW executive board. He told board members that steelmaking labor expenditures are too high and that the need to reduce them is urgent.

Ford and General Motors this year reached agreements with the UAW on procedures to reduce the growth of auto labor costs. In return, workers were granted greater job security.

National Steel Chairman and President H. M. Love told the securities analysts his firm will report a substantial loss for the first quarter of 1982, and added that prospects for the second quarter also are bleak, although that loss will not be as large as the first-quarter loss.

Green, Telegraph reach compromise

The Cowsley family will continue to control the Alton Telegraph, a 145-year-old northern Madison County daily newspaper, under a tentative out-of-court settlement reached Tuesday.

A hearing to complete the agreement is set for April 27.

A $3,200,000 libel award to building contractor James Green of the Quad-City area is to be vacated. In return, the paper will pay a substantial undisclosed portion of the judgment to Green.

Telegraph officials earlier said the size of the award to Green's lawsuit jeopardized continued operation of the family-owned paper. The Telegraph was unable to post the full appeal bond.

Editor Steve Cowsley described the agreement as a mutually acceptable compromise. It was reached during talks in East St. Louis at the court of U.S. Bankruptcy Judge James Trabue, who had scheduled a hearing.

The June 1980 Madison County Circuit Court trial centered around an unpublished news department memorandum sent to federal officials.

Hypothetical allegations in the memo, written in 1969, are said to have started a chain of events that cut off Green's loans from an Alton savings and loan firm that later was merged out of existence.

Without a source of operating funds, the construction firm was forced out of business, it was contended. It had built numerous apartments and other projects.

The Fifth Appellate Court in Mount Vernon on April 8 dismissed the Telegraph's appeal, saying it should instead be heard in the federal bankruptcy court although the latter had decided it lacked jurisdiction.

Appellate Justice Charles Jones said the appeal in effect was transferred in June 1981 when the bankruptcy court issued a restraining order barring Green and his attorney, Rex Carr, from trying to enforce the judgment against one of the reporters.

Judge Jones wrote that because proceedings involving former reporter Joe Meloni could not be severed from the entire case, the bankruptcy court ought to accept the issue for consideration.

Reorganization under the bankruptcy code has been pending in recent months, during which the newspaper continued to operate without interruption.

The Telegraph filed under Chapter 11 of the code due to the appeal bond problem, saying such an approach would protect its assets while the case was being decided.

The contractor then submitted his own reorganization plan. If it had been

The tax man cometh

Black Thursday—April 15, the deadline for filing 1981 income tax forms—is upon us.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for Quad-City area taxpayers, and taxpayers throughout the nation, to have their tax returns in the mail or face substantial penalties.

It is a night feared by those who just know that they are going to have to pay more tax than they already paid in 1981. A night feared by self-employed businessmen who have been optimistic when filing their quarterly tax estimates.

One can wait no longer. It is time to gather up those W-2s, 1040s, 1040a, income averaging forms, state forms, out of state resident forms and others and get to work.

For those who miss the 5 p.m. closing of local post offices, never fear, the Granite City Post Office has anticipated your dilemma. Postmaster Jack Wilkins will personally remove the mail from the mail boxes in front of, behind and on the 24th Street side of the main post office, 2350 Madison Ave., at midnight tonight and will see that all of the returns are postmarked by the midnight deadline.

So, pencils in hand; W-2 forms close by; taxpayers, ready—set—go. There are only a few hours left.

No GC redistricting-Schuler

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

It will not be necessary for Granite City to reduce its number of wards and aldermen, Mayor Paul Schuler said Tuesday. The city attorney has confirmed his preliminary assessment that there is no need to reduce the number of aldermen serving on the council from 14 to 10 and the number of wards from seven to five. The aldermen, however, could decide to redraw the boundaries of the city's seven wards.

The subject of redistricting surfaced on the council floor last week when Alderman Warren Deatur said he heard that the city had to be redistricted.

The council subsequently approved a motion by Alderman Paul Ray Bowler to appoint a citizens' redistricting committee.

During the aldermanic discussion, reduction of council seats and redrawing of the wards were both

TV helping curb crime

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Granite City's police department now has an additional set of eyes and ears, and five police officers voiced appreciation Tuesday to the donor, the Granite City Rotary Club.

Versatile, durable and ultra-sensitive in monitoring sights and sounds, the department's new television system was demonstrated at the club's weekly meeting, where some of the many uses were described.

The equipment already has been placed into operation in preventing, detecting and solving crimes, the Rotarians were told.

One videotape, with Chief of Police Ronald Veizer playing the role of a suspect, showed how eyewitness statements can be recorded for later use in court or as part of an investigation.

Confessions also can be made into a permanent audio-visual record when the individual and his counsel agree, and it has been found that the video camera tends to persuade some persons to talk more freely than they might otherwise, the gathering was told.

Each witness is told of his rights in detail, and the tape faithfully recreates the mood and setting of the interview, verifying there was no coercion.

Another sequence showed a typical Granite City commercial area, where a "zoom" camera lens permitted closure of faces and auto license numbers even from a great distance.

Little light is necessary in order to record public areas crisply and clearly in full color. And a listening device near the camera is able to pick up and amplify almost inaudible noises.

Surveillance of streets, lots and parks—and timely intervention to thwart law violations—are expected to be simplified and expedited.

It was pointed out that the all-seeing TV eye can "capture" a crime scene during the time the offense is taking place or shortly afterward, depending on the circumstances.

This enables enforcement personnel to preserve highly-informative visual images even though a scene sub-

$3.5 million plant expansion in Madison

By MICK STRANGE of the Press-Record

The Madison City Council Tuesday night approved the issuing of $3.5 million dollars in industrial revenue bonds for the expansion of Lanter Refrigerated Distributing Co., located at No. 3 McCasland Ave., in the Maers Industrial Park of Madison.

Lanter is a refrigerated distributing and warehouse company with a division in Kansas City, Kan., and home offices in Madison. Lanter has been located in Madison for the past 12 years.

The company is contemplating the construction of an approximately 55,000-square-foot refrigerated warehouse adjacent to the existing facility.

As a result of the construction of the new facility, Lanter expects to hire approximately 50 more employees.

In addition to the increase of jobs, it is believed the new facility will increase the tax base of the city of Madison and bring increased sales to the community.

"We certainly welcome this type of facility in Madison," Mayor Mike Sasyk said. "They have been doing a fine job and growing ever since they opened operations in Madison and we

EPA commends water districts

A total of 1,164 public drinking water supplies are being commended for their performance during 1981 by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA). The list includes Illinois-American and the Mitchell and Pontoon Beach Public Water districts.

According to Ira M. Markwood, manager, Division of Public Water Supplies, IEPA, "The size of this list reflects the growing professionalism of Illinois' public water supply operators and the success of efforts by municipalities and the IEPA towards providing and maintaining safe drinking water."

To receive commendation, a public water supply must have submitted all required water samples on schedule and have not had any violations of maximum allowable concentration standards during 1981. These criteria are defined in detail by the Illinois Pollution Control Board's Rules and Regulations on Public Water Supplies and the Interim Primary Regulations of the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

Markwood added, "Publishing this list is part of our way of recognizing those who have spent much time and effort towards making possible something we take for granted—safe drinking water."

Job clinic for youth

Young people between the ages of 16 and 21 are being invited to attend a free "job clinic" Sunday, from 2:30 p.m. until 4 p.m., in the fellowship hall of First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

"The purpose of this clinic is to help youth from the entire Quad-City area learn some of the techniques used in looking for and, hopefully, finding jobs during this difficult time of high unemployment," the Rev. Steve Yearly, youth minister, said.

Topics to be covered include: what are employers looking for in potential young employees, where and how to look, filling out applications, resumes, and the all-important job interview, according to Rev. Yearly.

Local businessmen participating in the clinic are John R. Clonko of Clonko's Market; Bud Clay, owner-operator of three area Farm Fresh stores; Jim Steel, area supervisor for McDonald Restaurants; Ed Paterson, a senior at Granite City High School South, and Walter "Mick" Strange of the Granite City Press-Record.

Persons attending are asked to use the parking lot entrance facing Madison Avenue.

The 1982 edition of the SIUE Concert Chorale

SIUE Concert Chorale may travel to Wales

EDWARDSVILLE — The Concert Chorale at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been invited to participate in the Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod to be held in Wales in July.

Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at the University, the group will compete in the adult choral competition category (mixed choirs not exceeding 80 voices). The students will perform Mozart's "Ave Verum" in Latin, Johann Pachelbel's "Sing Ye to the Lord," and an original composition by a composer from this country.

The Eisteddfod was first held in 1847, attracting the interest of 40 choirs representing 14 countries. In recent years, 30 or more countries have participated in the competition on an annual basis, attracting some 10,000 singers to the picturesque Wales village.

Competitors from overseas receive free hospitality in the homes of people in Llangollen and the surrounding districts. "Today, Llangollen is a Mecca for amateur singers and dancers of the world over, and the seeds of companionship and lasting friendship sown during the short period of the Eisteddfod are manifested by the profusion of letters and visits taking place between Llangollen hosts and their overseas guests," J. Noel Bowen, chairman of the Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod Council, said.

The SIUE singers will spend the three weeks preceding the musical competition touring Europe, performing in West Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Switzerland and France, as well as Great Britain and Wales.

The Chorale will perform in a variety of locations, ranging from renowned concert halls and cathedrals to small churches. Van Camp considers the church an excellent background for the choral group. "I prefer to sing in churches because most of the music we perform was originally written for church," he said.

Expressing the importance of students performing in the towns and halls where the composers were once active, Van Camp said, "Particularly when you are in Europe and sing European music in those churches, you experience something with a unique and lasting quality."

"We will sing in Salzburg where Mozart was born. We will sing in Venice where Lotti and many other composers worked. The students can absorb the milieu in which the composers worked," Van Camp emphasized, adding that it's an experience they cannot get at home.

This summer's tour will make the fourth trip abroad for the Concert Chorale. In 1974, the Chorale took first place in the 11th annual choral competition in Spittal, Austria. In doing so, the group was the first choir from this country to win the award. The Chorale also performed on the continent in 1971 and 1976.

Q. I understand that the dividend and interest exclusions for federal income tax have been changed. Can you explain what those changes are?

A. Under an act passed in 1980, an exclusion for both dividends and interest was established for 1981 totaling $200, or $400 for a joint return. Unfortunately, that law had a lifetime of exactly one year. Beginning with the 1982 taxable year, and carrying through 1984, only an exclusion for dividends in the amount of $100, and $200 for a joint return, will remain. However, beginning in 1985, an interest exclusion of 15 percent of up to $2,000 or $4,000 for a joint return, will take effect. This exclusion will be limited to the lesser of 15 percent or $3,000, or the amount that interest received during the year exceeds interest paid out (excluding interest paid on home mortgage or in connection with a trade or business). In other words, until 1985 you will be entitled only to a dividend exclusion as explained above, but an across-the-board interest exclusion in 1985 and after.

Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday endorsed Donald R. Shaffner for election as governor-elect of Rotary District 646 in 1982-83.

Shaffner currently resides in Troy, Ill. He was born in and attended schools in E. St. Louis.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in elementary education and a master of science degree in supervision from Illinois State University at Normal. He has also attended classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Coordinator of off-campus and career education for the Granite City public schools. Shaffner has been an educator for 20 years, working in Joliet and East St. Louis prior to coming to Granite City in 1966.

His teaching assignments have included elementary, junior high, senior high and special education positions. He has taught at Nameoki School, the former Central Junior High and Granite City High School North.

Shaffner is a member of the Granite City Rotary Club, having joined during the 1973-74 year. He is a Paul Harris Fellow, receiving that award from the Granite City club for his work in the youth exchange program in the district.

His Rotary activities have included the 1977-78 president, Ten Grand Guys, board of directors of the Central States Rotary Youth Exchange, District 646 youth exchange chairman, and Granite City club chairman for the youth exchange.

Numerous high school students from central and southwestern Illinois spend a year overseas, and this district hosts many foreign students, under arrangements coordinated by Shaffner.

Currently, Shaffner is a member of the executive board of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, a member of the church council of St. John's United Church of

He has served as president of the Southwest Area Council of Teachers, chairman of the Youth Consultation Council of the Tri-Cities, chairman of the Granite City Federation of Teachers Salary and Policy Committee, member of the executive board of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, and vice-president of the Granite City Federation of Teachers.

A governor-elect serves for one year in that role before becoming district governor. If elected this month, Shaffner will be the 1983-84 governor.

Venice seeks funds to resurface Broadway

The resurfacing of Broadway through Venice will cost $150,000, according to a letter from the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols read the letter at the Venice City Council meeting last week. The letter noted that if FAUS (Federal Aid to Urban Systems) funds are to be used, the city will have to provide 90 percent of the total cost, or $140,000.

The council discussed the cost and the fact that there were other streets in the city, for example Third and Weaver streets, which are in worse shape than Broadway. Complaints were lodged at the council meeting by Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. about persons congregating and drinking outside a tavern on Weaver Street.

Valentine further objected to an arcade on Weaver Street being open while repairs are being made to the ceiling. The owner of the arcade, a resident of East St. Louis, formerly of Venice, objected to Valentine's comments, charging that the alderman was "picking" on him.

The council approved the reinstatement of Venice Police Officer Timmy Simmons, who resigned at the last council meeting. Simmons will be reinstated with his seven years of seniority, provided the two patrolmen and three desk personnel with less seniority have no objections.

A spokesman for the city said he feels there will be no objections from the other persons involved.

Mayor Echols said he feels that there will be CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) workers available this summer, but is not certain of how many.

Senior citizen dance April 23

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a "Senior Citizens" dance from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Friday, April 23, at the newly named Harold Brown Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

The dance will feature the live music of the "Alley Kats," a local group under the direction of Howard Bolton.

Soft drinks and popcorn will be furnished without charge, a park spokesman advised.

All senior citizens are invited to attend the festive event and bring along a friend, the spokesman said.

WINDOW IS KICKED

Police charged Trudy E. Dunnant, 25, of 1228 Beckwith St., Madison, with disorderly conduct this week after seeing a woman attempt to kick and break a large window of Stephanie's store, 19th Street and Edison Avenue. She was freed Monday afternoon on $52 cash bail.

State proposes foreign trade mission

CHICAGO — Governor James R. Thompson invited Illinois' businesses to participate in a state-sponsored foreign trade mission to Bulgaria and Hungary Sept. 27 to Oct. 8.

"Helping Illinois' companies reach foreign buyers for their products is one of the key elements of Illinois, Inc., our umbrella marketing and promotion campaign for the state," Thompson said.

"Eastern Europe is hungry for the high quality, advanced technology goods produced here in Illinois, and this trade mission offers our companies the opportunity to tap new markets at a relatively low cost and with minimum difficulty."

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is organizing the trade mission. The Illinoisans will first travel to Plodiv, Bulgaria, to participate in an eight-day international industrial trade fair, and then on to Budapest, Hungary, for a series of meetings with Hungarian trade companies and government officials. Prior to the overseas trip, DCCA staff in Brussels and Chicago will prepare direct-mail promotions for the participating Illinois companies and help set up appointments with Hungarian officials.

The Department will make all arrangements for booth space, shipping and accommodations overseas and provide translation assistance. The Department also will underwrite a portion of the cost of the booth space at the Plodiv fair. According to the Department, Bulgaria provides Illinois companies with exceptional trade opportunities because its government's five-year plan places high priority on modernizing existing plants and equipment and using new technology.

Sectors of special interest to the Bulgarians include agricultural equipment, chemicals, electronics, energy-related equipment, metallurgy, machine tools, food processing and packaging, materials handling, plant maintenance and automotive equipment. Companies interested in participating in the state-sponsored trade mission to Eastern Europe should contact Dr. Nicholas Pogany in DCCA's Chicago office, 312-795-2002.

Victory over TB began a century ago

(Illinois Lung Association)
This is the 100th anniversary of announcement of the discovery of the cause of tuberculosis.

Robert Koch, a German physician, became one of the most famous doctors of his day.

His discovery of the tubercle bacillus—the bacterium that causes the disease—was the first major breakthrough in combating the disease.

In Koch's time, TB was responsible for one-seventh of all deaths in Europe and one-third of those among productive young adults. Koch's discovery was not simply important in the fight against sickness in his time. It also provided a lasting contribution to the progress of medicine, and its impact has been felt ever since.

Koch's pioneering method of isolating bacteria or bacilli—growing them in culture and then administering them to animals to reproduce tuberculosis—became the standard technique for identifying the bacterial causes of infectious diseases. Known as Koch's Postulates, this technique, first employed a century ago in the fight against TB, is still the basis of much more sophisticated techniques which scientists use today.

Along with pinpointing the cause of tuberculosis, Koch made significant contributions to finding its cure. And he was an early practitioner of skin-testing, a technique which led to the method of TB diagnosis that is still widely used.

Koch's research, most especially his announcement in the spring of 1882 that he had found the cause of tuberculosis, set the stage for development of the vital sciences of bacteriology and cellular immunology. It is still saving lives today.

can be proud of their plans to expand here," he added.

A problem over manpower availability in the street department was discussed at length by the council. The discussion began when Fifth Ward Alderman Donald Garrett contended that "the residents of the Fifth Ward are being shortchanged on trash pickup. We have tree limbs in the alleys and trash not being hauled away properly."

Saysky replied, "We seem to be having a real problem in the street department. We have four or five employees who, for one reason or another, don't seem to be able to work a full 12 months. Some have physical problems, apparently, not bad enough to retire, but keeps us very short-handed all the time."

"Right now we have 11 men on the street department, counting the superintendent of streets and three off. That is only eight on duty. We even have the city hall custodian helping out two days a week."

"I think we need to find out legally where we stand in reference to workers being off and use of sick leave. Then the council will have to take a firm stand," Saysky said.

After further discussion, it was decided to have a meeting of the Aldermanic Street and Alley Committee, along with City Attorney Casper

S. Nighoghossian, and then make suggestions for solutions to the street department manpower problem. Members of the Street and Alley Committee are: Fourth Ward Alderman Christ Costoff, Second Ward Alderman Ida Dant, Third Ward Alderman Elmer Smith and Garrett. Approval was given to City Comptroller Al Hudak to obtain tax anticipation warrants on a month-to-month basis, as needed, to meet the city's IMRF (Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund) obligations, until tax monies are received. It was estimated that the city will need to borrow between $30,000 and $35,000 for IMRF until the tax monies are collected.

The exact amount needed changes slightly each month slightly, since the city's contribution is in direct relation to the city payroll.

It was announced that the insurance company for the city covering the city street department storage garage, where the roof collapsed during the heavy snow, has awarded the contract for repairs to Winfield Construction Co. of Edwardsville. Repairs will cost the insurance company $17,000.

Mayor Saysky said, "Since we are not awarding the bid, all we can do is ask, but we have asked Winfield Construction to use the steel sheeting made by Granite City Steel."

"That's what we used when we put up the building. It's not a real big order for Granite City Steel, but it will help the area a little bit. In these times, every little bit helps."

The council approved advertising for bids for commercial trash containers, asphalt and concrete.

Fourth Ward Alderman Costoff said, "I drove around our ward and it looks like hell with all these buildings boarded up. What can we do? Why do they have to be boarded up and look so bad? Why can't they be torn down or something?"

Mayor Saysky explained, "One of the buildings is a foreclosure problem and several are waiting the outcome of fire claims. I agree, they don't look good, but there isn't much we can legally do to keep them from boarding the buildings up."

Mayor Saysky then reminded those present of a bus going to Springfield at 7:30 a.m. Friday to carry persons protesting Illinois Power Co.'s requested electric and gas increases, and he encouraged city officials to go.

It was noted that the bus will take 40 people on an advanced first-come, first-served reservation basis to the hearing of the Illinois Commerce Commission on the IP rate hike requests. Persons desiring a seat on the bus must call 696-0268 to make a reservation, it was noted.

It also is possible to make tapes of confessed wrongdoers later re-enacting their crimes at the original locations.

Potential police-video scenes include areas where a homicide has occurred or where there has been a major burglary. The interior and exterior can be shown along with an indication of what was taking place in the surrounding block at the time of the investigation.

Arrested persons can be shown during their booking and after incarceration, to pinpoint whether the individual was injured earlier or whether he may have inflicted a wound on himself or herself while in a jail cell.

Other uses for the video system include photographing suspects' lineups and identification, recording drug transactions, and depicting public disturbances.

Single frames can be "frozen" to enable a particular likeness to be studied and perhaps rephotographed for enlargement.

Participating in Tuesday's meeting and program, in addition to the police chief, were Lieutenant Colonel George Teller, a member of the department for 34 years; Capt. Astorian, a Granite City police department member for 20 years; Sgt. Knight, 13 years; and Detective Nomm, 8 1/2 years.

News notes

Illinois drunken driving arrests exceeded 800 in March, nearly twice as many as in March 1981.

The Illinois House debated and then rejected Wednesday a bill that would have barred cities from regulating or banning sale or possession of firearms. The plan received a 94-70 three-fifths, 107, to pass because it would have prevented home rule powers.

Jayne Thompson, 36, withdrew her name Wednesday as a possible federal judge appointee, saying she did not want to harm the political future of her husband, Gov. James R. Thompson, or of Sen. Charles H. Percy, who included her name on a list of potential judicial candidates. The national bar group found her to be capable but the Illinois State Bar declined to recommend her as qualified, apparently due to limited trial experience.

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission board at a monthly meeting at 2:30 p.m. April 21 at the Lincoln Hotel, Belleville, will consider endorsing state construction of a new adult correctional facility in or near East St. Louis.

A state helicopter whose priority is to carry critically ill persons has been used for political, personal and status business trips by Gov. Thompson, his aide, Jim Prescott, said Wednesday. Prescott added, "The governor has given the crews instructions that if there is a medical emergency, he is to be dropped off at the first available site."

APARTMENT INVADDED
Two unknown men at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday invaded the apartment of Diana Meyers, 3010 Kirkpatrick Homes; they ran away after she was struck and called her dog to come downstairs. The dog bit and bloodied a leg of one of the intruders. Hit in the face by a fist, she had been knocked across a chair and onto the floor and could not rise and summon help for 20 minutes.

MITCHELL WOMEN IN CRASH RECOVERING
Two Mitchell women have been released after emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for injuries suffered on Sand Prairie Lane at the I-55-70 overpass. The car of Tina Pavia, 18, skidded in a circular direction and collided with a truck; she and her passenger, Jennifer Hutchinson, 18, were unhurt. After they left the auto, Miss Hutchinson volunteered to move it out of a traffic lane. Before she could complete the move, the vehicle was hit by a car and she sustained "whiplash" injuries and muscle spasms of the neck and back. Another auto, meanwhile, struck Miss Pavia as she stood at the crash scene; she was thrown against a guardrail and received a knee cut requiring four sutures.

GC WOMAN INJURED
Charles W. Wilson, 31, of 1710 State St. was arrested at the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets, for grabbing the throat of Judy Furtak of the 2300 block of Hodges Avenue and then bruising her forehead by pushing her against a wall. Charged with battery, he was freed this week on $102 bail.

Many workers 'discouraged'

The overall employment situation continued to show weakness in March, the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor reported Wednesday. The nation's unemployment rate rose from 8.5 to 9.0 percent, equaling the rate of May 1975.

Nonfarm payroll employment—derived from the monthly survey of establishments—declined by 220,000 over the month to 99.8 million. Payroll jobs have declined by 1.2 million since reaching a high of 92 million last September.

At 99.5 million, total employment was little different from the levels of the first three months but well below the pre-recession peak of last summer.

The nation's unemployment rate is up 1.8 points since the July 1981 pre-recession low. The number of jobless persons rose 290,000 over the month to 8.9 million, two million above last July's level.

'Gospel Sing' at City Temple

The Tri-Cities Chapter will observe Secretaries Week with a banquet honoring the Secretary of the Year and the Executive of the Year with awards at 6 p.m. Thursday, April 22, at the St. Louis Metropolitan Bar Association Club on the 36th floor of the Mercantile Tower in downtown St. Louis.

A member of the local chapter of PSI will be selected the 1982 Secretary of the Year. Her selection is based upon the accumulation of points earned by the past year's service to the Tri-Cities Chapter of PSI.

Also, to be honored will be the recently elected Executive of the Year. Candidates for this award were nominated by chapter members and voted upon. Identities of the Secretary of the Year and the Executive of the Year recipients are kept secret until announced at the banquet.

The current Secretary of the Year is Mrs. Mary Gain of GSI Engineering (a division of General Steel Industries, Inc.) and the current Executive of the Year is Robert Crain of the same firm.

The featured program will be a skit entitled "It Should Never Happen To A Boss" performed by the Nine To Five Come Alive Players, who are coming alive just this once, after many years in retirement.

Mrs. Helen Christich, secretary to Walter (Shang) Greathouse of the Metro East Sanitary District, will serve as mistress of ceremonies for the banquet. Interested persons are welcome to attend the dinner. Information and reservations may be obtained by contacting Sally Tracey, chairman of Secretaries Week at 1-618-931-3390.

In addition to the participation of nearly 800 chapters in every state of the United States and every province of Canada, Secretaries Week observances will be held in many foreign countries under the auspices of PSI Affiliates.

Illinois Governor James R. Thompson, in recognition of Secretaries Week, sent a proclamation to all PSI chapters in Illinois, reading as follows: Whereas, today's master, technical and communication skills and assume the responsibility for countless details in the operation of a business; and where-with a greater role as a member of the management team, today's professional secretary must have increasing business and economic knowledge, tact and decision-making capabilities; and whereas the important contribution made by secretaries in business, government and the professions of our country has been recognized for the past 30 years.

Therefore, I, James R. Thompson, Governor of the state of Illinois, proclaim April 18-24, 1982, as Secretaries Week and April 21, as Secretaries Day in Illinois, and I urge all managers to recognize the efforts made by professional secretaries in the operation of every aspect of American business.

U.S. President Ronald Reagan also sent a letter to all PSI Chapters, noting "Secretaries Week provides us with a welcome opportunity to honor our secretaries and to recognize their critically important role in our great nation."

Secretaries being to their jobs in the public and private sectors invaluable training and skills, providing a sense of organization and cohesiveness to their offices.

Always in demand, secretaries today are faced with the mounting technical charges and challenges of our complex society and, likewise, excellent opportunities for career growth as their traditional duties expand.

I am proud to applaud America's secretaries, and I

The Gardenaires Garden Club held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Hintz, last week, and during the business meeting, conducted by vice-president, Mrs. Richard Kerch, plans were finalized to provide a program theme. Hostesses were assigned for the monthly meetings, and projects were selected and committees appointed.

The program for the meeting, entitled "The World Is In My Garden," was presented by Mrs. Kerch. She said there were three types of gardeners found in a garden club: the dirt gardener, the flower arranger, and the arranger gardener. She concluded her remarks by tracing the origins of some of the present day garden flowers and how they survived through the centuries to become favorites in today's gardens.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Hornum in Edwardsville. Attending were Mrs. C. E. Eads, Charles Kohl, Mary Kristian, William Long and Jerry Arbelster and a guest, Mrs. William Lindsey of Cahokia.

Announcements also were made concerning the organizational meeting of the District V official board on April 19, in Belleville, and the district's workshop on May 6, which will be hosted by the Edwardsville Garden Club at the First Baptist Church in Edwardsville.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Kerch, chairman of the program committee, presented plans for the club year book for the coming year. She announced "Popcorn" was to be the program theme. Hostesses were assigned for the monthly meetings, and projects were selected and committees appointed.

Drug experts propose major look-alike legislation

SPRINGFIELD — Legislative members of the Advisory Council to the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission have introduced a "comprehensive look-alike" drug bill as an emergency measure in the General Assembly.

Sponsored in the House by Rep. L. Michael Getty (D-Dolton) and in the Senate by Senators Dawn Clark Lataste (D-Chicago) and Forest Etheredge (R-Aurora), the bill takes an unequivocal stand on the look-alike drug phenomenon by prohibiting the manufacture, distribution, sale, advertising or possession of look-alike drugs in the State of Illinois and by attaching strong criminal penalties for violations.

Introducing the bill, Getty stated, "This legislation is the comprehensive product of medical, social, criminal justice and legal expertise equal to that assembled for any issue since the creation of the Dangerous Drugs Commission in 1974.

Passage of the bill will continue Illinois' proud tradition of leadership in the drug abuse field by providing us with the strongest look-alike drug law in the country."

The Council's bill adopts recommendations of a Special Committee on Look-Alike Drugs, chaired by Cook County Circuit Court Judge Benjamin S. Mackoff, with membership comprised of a prosecutor, a defense attorney, a physician, a pharmacist and a drug abuse treatment professional.

The special committee conducted extensive public hearings over the past six months, which resulted in the introduction of the Council legislation as well as recommendations to the Illinois State Board of Education for stronger school drug policies, pressure on Federal authorities for action at their level, and notification to law enforcement agencies of provisions in existing law which might be employed as a stopgap measure against look-alikes prior to the enactment of comprehensive legislation.

The Council's bill gives the Dangerous Drugs Commission and the Illinois Department of Public Health the option of requiring medical permission, in the form of a prescription or a pharmacy log, for ingredients in look-alike drugs which may now be purchased over the counter.

It also clarifies certain ambiguities which have made similar proposals vulnerable to court challenges, and sets out a severe penalty schedule, with fines ranging up to $75,000 for some offenses, and provides for seizure of look-alike profits, manufacturing equipment and supplies.

"This is no time for half-way measures, Getty stated. "Look-alike drugs may well be killing our young people, and at the very least, they encourage the drug-taking behavior the Dangerous Drugs Commission fights every day. Any lesser effort on the part of the Legislature with respect to a look-alike law would be irresponsible."

Free health tests here next week

With Health Fair Week scheduled for April 18-25 in this metropolitan area, a variety of free tests will be offered Wednesday, April 21, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Co-sponsors are KSDK, General American Life Insurance Co. and the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter of the American Red Cross, in conjunction with the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations.

NHSICO is a private, non-profit health promotion organization which has assisted communities in providing over one million people with free health screening, counseling and educational services. Its programs are noted as intensive follow-up on participants who show signs of potentially serious health problems.

Jack Grieves, assistant vice-president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will be the site coordinator for Health Fair '82.

This marks the Granite City medical center's third year of involvement with the screening program.

Grieves said the local Health Fair '82 will be held on April 21 in SEMC's Ketteler Building gymnasium.

From 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., area residents will be able to receive a dozen different free health tests and visit various information booths; 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. has been designated for senior citizens.

The only charge is $4 for blood chemistry, which is a combination of several tests. Anyone 18 years of age or older may take advantage of the screenings.

Senior citizens are being encouraged to attend the fair in the morning hours, if possible.

Malachi 3:10 —
Prove me now.

This is a marvelous challenge from God to his people. "Prove me," said God. He wants the chance to let you see that He is not a myth. What you will have to do is communicate directly with Him. This means you will bypass all the systems of organized religion and many of the misconceptions that we find there. After you prove Him, then you can find a place to serve Him.

The emphasis on proving God is made more urgent by the statement, prove me now. Do not delay another day. Start at once to read the Bible, God's Word. Pray and ask God to reveal himself through the Word. Be prepared to hear from Heaven! When you seek God with all your heart, you will find Him.

Prove Him.

James Stuart DeMolay Chapter celebrates 60th anniversary

An audience of 450 gathered at the Granite City Township Hall to mark the founding of DeMolay in Granite City and the state as James Stuart Chapter, the first chapter in Illinois and east of the Mississippi River, observed its 60th anniversary as a chapter in the International Order of DeMolay, last week.

Master of Ceremonies Representative Everett G. Steele, a past master counselor, chevalier and Legion of Honor, opened the evening's program by calling on the Rev. James L. Rucker for the invocation. Rev. Rucker, an ordained Methodist minister, and a past master counselor of the chapter came from Erin, Tenn., where he is the "chapter dad" of Wisdom Chapter Order of DeMolay.

Patrick Gibbons, master counselor, welcomed the audience and led them in the pledge of allegiance. Harlan Keel played the piano for dinner music and for the community singing led by Mrs. Richard Branding. Following introduction and presentations Roy L. Wilmsig Jr., advisor, senior DeMolay, Legion of Honor, past potentate of Ainal Temple and a 33-degree Scottish Rite Mason introduced the speaker for the evening, Bob Hardy. Hardy, a KMOX radio personality, an honorary Legion of Honor member, past potentate of Ainal Temple and 33-degree Scottish Rite Mason, discussed the influences on the young people of today compared to the influence that today's adults face as teenagers. Also how parents have to be aware of the negative influences affecting the lives of young people which is reflected in today's music, as well as other types of entertainment. To illustrate the drug and sex oriented subtle background so evident in the words of today's rock and other songs, he quoted from the June 1982 "Hit Parade" magazine.

He mentioned that the institution of marriage and the conduct of government officials as well as other elements of today's society had changed their moral values greatly, whereas the Masonic fraternal organization including John's Daughters, Rainbow Girls and DeMolays have held to their principals. Jimmy E. Stuart, awards advisor and director of Sales and Services for Illinois

DeMolay, thanked Bob Hardy for his talk and presented him with a gold DeMolay jacket in behalf of the DeMolays and advisors of the chapter. Steele remarked that DeMolay came to Granite City through the foresight of the Masonic fraternity when Granite City Chapter 221 Royal Arch Masons were granted "Letters Temporary" on May 24, 1921, by Frank S. Land, founder of the order, to form Granite City Chapter. During the 60 years since, literally thousands of young men have knelt at the altar of DeMolay, participated in its charitable and community service activities and to become better citizens of our community, state and nation for having been a DeMolay. The trophy case at the Steele then read letters of congratulation from James R. Thompson, governor of Illinois who stated in part, "As Governor of Illinois, I am pleased to send greetings to the many people attending the 60th Anniversary celebration of the James Stuart DeMolay Chapter of Granite City. I am proud, as I know you are, of the outstanding work you have done over these past five decades. The solid and basic beliefs that have been passed on to you... that you, in turn, will pass on to your sons, and they to theirs, are truly commendable. They are the backbone of our country, and I salute you for your dedication in carrying on this tradition. God bless each one of you for your enthusiasm in working toward bettering your lives and the lives of those around you."

Charles A. Meyer, chapter advisor, paid tribute to the charter members and with the aid of Gilbert Watson, presented each with a personal greeting from Paul Skoglund, grand secretary of the International Supreme Council.

Charter members in attendance were: Otto R. Hoelscher, William J. Mehl, Eckhart A. Romann, George H. Baechold, and David E. John. Those unable to attend were: Walmer A. Brummer, Thomas J. Griffiths of Colonnades Nursing Home; Frank F. Markgraf of Peoria; the Rev. Walter W. H. Kleffman of St. Louis, William H. Weddell of San Bernardino, Calif.; Everett L. Bernardine, John M. Elmer O. Hill of Bumpus Mills, Tenn., and William T. Huber of St. Petersburg Fla. Other charter members who to the chapters knowledge, are deceased are: Byron R. Prope, Roland A. Mueller, Theodore L. Graham, Joseph J. G. Williams, Walter J. Kruesscheck, Edward W. Pauly, Irvin J. Todd, D. Raymond Morgan, John M. Harris, Frank Dunn, Gerald O. Daniels, Ralph J. Primrose, Ernest E. Veith Jr., Sidney J. West, A. Buel Cotter, Harold W. Bremer, William T. Huber and Elmer O. Hill.

If anyone has knowledge of any others still living and know their whereabouts, a call to Charles Meyer at 451-7575 would be appreciated. Meyer noted that although they had been DeMolays for 60 years and would on June 21, 1982, be 61 years a year plus available as yet. Those who attend the 75th anniversary will receive a pin with a diamond.

Also honored and introduced were their wives: Helen Gerlach Hoelscher, Gertrude Thompson Mehl, Luella Jensen Romann, Annette Strackeljohn Baechold and Virginia Sweeney John. Deceased charter members whose wives also were present and honored were: Mrs. Helen Keubler Todd wife of Irby V. Todd, Mrs. Ann Leftrich Mueller wife of Roland A. Mueller, and Mrs. Marie Burr Vahl wife of Ernest E. Veith Jr.

Meyer then presented the 1982 members of James Stuart Chapter present: Brian A. Forbes, Jamie L. Hogan and Timothy S. Hogan. Douglas W. Partney, Todd A. Sine and Bradley D. Wolford and asked them to join the charter members.

Steele introduced those at the main table and speaking briefs were given by: Collinsville, deputy master counselor of Illinois DeMolay; Edward C. Bieser, advisor of Douglas W. Partney, Todd A. Sine and Bradley D. Wolford and asked them to join the charter members.

Steele greeted and recognized several in the audience, including Kathy Parmley Rathewicz and her husband Allen. Kathy was Illinois State DeMolay Chapter 221 R.A. U. Chapter's sponsoring body.

During the evening "alodes of yesterday," collected by Robert Maxwell, a past master counselor, Chevalier and Legion of Honor member, were shown for reminiscing.

Gibbons, past president of the Mother's Club.

Gilbert Watson, past state master counselor and chairman of the 60th anniversary banquet committee, talked on the founding of the DeMolay Mothers Club, known then as The Granite City Mothers Circle by Verna Stuart, wife of the late James "Uncle Jimmy" Stuart. He commended her for her continued efforts in its behalf which is now known as the Granite City Mothers Club. He expressed the appreciation and love that the DeMolays of his era and since have for her, and as a token of that esteem presented her a corsage.

Mark W. Moreton of Freeburg, Ill., Potentate of Ainal Temple, E. St. Louis, introduced his Divan members present, and presented, from the 900 members of Ainal from Southern Illinois, to the chapter, the Past Grand Master, master counselor, the DeMolay "Crown of Youth."

Remarking that the "Crown of Youth" has a very important part in the DeMolay initiation, it symbolizes the seven cardinal virtues of the Order of DeMolay - fidelity, reverence, courtesy, comradeship, cleanliness and patriotism.

Sam W. Wolf, State Representative, said that he thought it noteworthy that in the 60 years that the chapter has been in existence there have been only four chapter advisors: Isaac R. Prope, Alvah H. Holman, James Charles A. Meyer which brought him to the reason he was there. To present House Resolution No. 725 offered by Representative E. G. Steele, Sam W. Wolf and Jim McPike to Charles A. Meyer, as chapter dad of the Chapter for the past 17 years and to his wife, Jo, who is an active member of the DeMolay Mothers Club.

The officers of James Stuart Chapter closed the historic occasion by giving the DeMolay "Nine O'Clock Building gymnasium from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and seniors from 8 to 11 a.m."

Tickets will include anemia, blood pressure, diabetes, glaucoma, hearing, height, weight, oral examination, tuberculosis and visual acuity. All tests are free with the exception of blood chemistry which will cost $8, according to the announcement.

Mothers Club plan fund raising event

Final plans for a rummage sale on May 8 at Schermer's Market parking lot in Madison, were announced at a monthly business meeting of the DeMolay Mothers Club, last week.

Barbara McKinney, vice president, presided and noted the fund raising project will begin at 8 a.m. She also announced the installation of officers of the James Stuart Chapter will be held Tuesday night, April 20, at the Masonic Temple.

Robert Hebbelwaite will be installed as master counselor with his corps of officers at 7:30 p.m., in public ceremonies, Mrs. McKinney added.

To open the session all members recited the pledge of allegiance and the Mothers Prayer was offered by Chaplain Rene Buckingham.

The next session was set for 7:30 p.m. on May 4. Hostesses for the evening, Liz Gibbons, Edie Donolan and Jane Meyer served refreshments to Virginia Cotter, Hilda Few, Marlene Forbes, Peggy Kuehn, Margaret Gleason, Lois Hebbelwaite, Doris Payne, Jo Meyer, Mary Stuart, Pat Tsigolero and Charlotte Mize, and those named.

MEDICINE IS TOPIC
"Medicinal Drugs and the Consumer" is the topic to be discussed by Homemakers Extension Association local leaders at unit meetings next week. Dates included Monday, April 19, at 7 p.m., Creative Women, at the home of Karen Nelson, 5 Nightingale, Granite City.

Nancy Felsheim, from the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency, was the featured speaker at the April meeting of Johnson School PTA held Monday night at the school.

She stressed that most people consider alcohol a beverage rather than a drug, but alcohol is a drug and is the third leading cause of death. It changes a person's thought process, action and is responsible for mood changing, the speaker added.

There are five primary reasons why children use alcohol or drugs, they are peer pressure, boredom, parents example, trying to act like an adult and rebellion, Felsheim said. She explained that drugs and alcohol is easily available to young people even though parents may not know this. In answer to their question,

"what can we do?" the guest speaker said they must first educate themselves about alcohol and drugs before they can help children to understand.

Miss Loretta Woolbright's fourth grade class won the attendance banner and other prizes were awarded to Peggy Stover, Bert Beck, Mary Jo Utz, and Linda Wozniak.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 419 presented the flag ceremony under the leadership of Jackie Sanderling. Participating scouts were Sandy Stover, Stacey Mertz, Jill Robinson and Cathy Sanderling.

Restored houses on May 2 tour

by DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

This year's Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society's House Tour on May 2, will include the home of L. P. Frohardt, the first superintendent of schools, located at 2223 Delmar Ave.

One of the oldest houses in the city it was built in 1895 and is now owned by Tim and Carla Elliott. However, when Mr. Frohardt had the dwelling constructed, he was criticized for building so far out of town and today the structure is almost the geographical center of the restoration area.

The owner's father-in-law was John Becker, the architect who built Grant's cabin. The two men were responsible for the Anne style Victorian home, which remains sound and sturdy.

It has only a half basement made of thick limestone foundation with two massive beams supporting the house. When purchased by the Elliotts there were no cracks in any walls and the windows were tight fitting. They did find three layers of wallpaper, many nailholes in the walls, and paneling that was removed, before renovation started.

Mr. Frohardt was interested in wood working as well as being an educator and reportedly did all the woodwork in the home, which was not damaged nor painted. Most stairways of the Victorian era had spindle banisters, but this one does not. Elliott said he saw its duplicate in a Scott Joplin movie leading him to believe there is another one like it someplace in St. Louis.

Looking to the future, Mr. Frohardt had the house wired for electricity, even though it was not available for homes at that time. The local plants had electricity and he was sure it would become available, so he had the house constructed for both gas and electric lighting. Some of the original wiring is still in good condition, the owners noted.

The two-story, seven room, house is made entirely of white pine and although it is still quite the same the present owners learned, through research, that the stained glass windows have been removed as well as the secretary that once stood in the living room.

Another house on the spring tour is that of Charles and Joy Causey at 2301 Cleveland Blvd., which is approximately 65 years old and at one time was divided into three apartments and a sleeping room.

The family moved into the 11-room dwelling with their seven children 10 years ago and have since restored the house to a single family unit. At the present time their eldest son, his wife and child, now occupy the third floor. As in most of the older homes new wiring and plumbing had to be installed and wallpaper removed. The new owners stripped three coats of paint from the woodwork, planning to repaint but decided the wood was more attractive and left it in its original state.

Unusual facets of the home is the original stained glass windows flanking the front door, the dining room chandelier, mirrored doors, radiator covers as well as the furnace. All the oversized windows are different sizes and only one window had wood facings that were dried out, but after several soakings of linseed oil it was revived.

A separate area for cooking is featured in the kitchen thus keeping the heat of the stove away from the rest of the room. The family has removed tree stumps and trees in the yard and have landscaped the grounds. Tickets for the tour are available from any DNRS member at a cost of $2.50 in advance and on the day of the tour will cost $3. A brochure describing the homes and their location will be distributed to tour guests on Sunday, May 2.

Compatible color is program topic

"Making Color Work For You" was the topic of a major lesson presented by Geraldine Bower, extension adviser, at a meeting of Trio Unit, Madison County Home Extension Association, held at Hope Lutheran Church.

The guest speaker divided the members into five discussion groups and gave each group color swatches. Using the swatches they were to analyze each other as to the color best suited to them considering skin tone and hair and eye color.

She explained the colors you wear should provide the background to show your personal coloring at its best. After the program, Mrs. Bower announced that Channel 1, on cable, will feature an art exhibit to be held at the University of Illinois on May 14-16, to be aired Thursday at noon, Monday at 6 p.m. and Friday at 10 a.m. for the entire month.

Chairman Pat Mitchell opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag and 29 members answered roll call. Lucille Sackett, second vice-chairman, introduced Marilou Lybarger, a former member who attended as a guest, and reopened her membership. Health and Safety Chairman Vivian Forshee, read an article on "Visiting a Doctor."

Min Lee and Mrs. Mitchell volunteered to deliver Mobile Meals in response to Helen Robertson, family life chairman. Mrs. Robertson also asked for volunteers to visit with some of the recipients of the mobile meals. Rose Kayser was elected a name through the Church Women United and visits with the local resident, by phone regularly.

Mrs. Mitchell reported the Home Extension annual meeting will be held in Highland on April 29 and reservations must be made no later than April 22. Cost of tickets is $4.50 and registration for the meeting day will begin at 9:30 a.m. she added.

Entertainment for the meeting will be a style show by West Pint Pepper Co., and all clothes will be created from sheer. Those planning on attending are to meet at the church at 8:30 a.m.

Naomi Chapman

reminded everyone the district meeting is scheduled for May 18 at St. John United Church of Christ. A 12 noon luncheon will be served and the program for the day will be a slide presentation on A Trip to Alaska shown by Mrs. Georgia Engleke.

Due to the inclement weather in February the meeting was cancelled, therefore the lesson on Swiss Cookery will be given at the May 4 craft day. A craft demonstration will begin at 10:30 a.m. and lunch will be served at noon, the chairman announced.

Mrs. Mitchell appointed Marie Durbin and Helen Rossner to serve on the nominating committee. Prizes for the day went to Arline Brinkmeyer, Mrs. Rossner and Ivan Gralbanoff.

Party honors Mrs. Veasman

Mrs. Lorene Veasman, 1710 Minerva Ave., celebrated her 88th birthday on Easter Sunday, at her home, with relatives and friends.

Those attending were the honoree's sons and daughters-in-law, Jerry and Maggie Taylor and Bob and Marlene Taylor, all of Granite City, her sister, Dorothy Caraway, granddaughter, Elizabeth Taylor and Bill Nordike.

Out of town guests included Michael Taylor, a grandson, and Bill Blair from Dayton, Ohio.

SISTERS' DAY OF RENEWAL SATURDAY

Food habits harming health

(Third in a series of 15 articles exploring "Food and People." Robert L. Rizek of the Agriculture Department's Consumer Nutrition Center today discusses the changes in the American diet, some of which might be damaging to health. Copyright (c) 1982 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By ROBERT L. RIZEK
At a time when fast-food establishments bombard us with rival claims for better burgers, chicken and fish, it is easy to forget that these foods have not always enjoyed their current popularity.

Scarcely more than a generation ago, Americans ate more pork than beef, and chicken hardly competed with meat at all. The fact is that our food habits are changing.

Although year-to-year changes are minor, there have been a number of major changes in the American diet since the beginning of the century.

These changes reflect such varied factors as declining birth rates, new methods of processing foods, concerns about health, and changing tastes and social patterns such as eating out frequently.

Unfortunately, not all of these changes have been for the better. As a nation, we are consuming substantially more meat, poultry and fish, and more dairy products other than butter, than we did in 1900.

Our consumption of sugar and other sweeteners, fats and oils, and processed fruits and vegetables has also increased.

On the other hand, we are eating fewer grain products and fewer potatoes, sweet potatoes and eggs.

These conclusions are based on data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which has conducted national food consumption surveys (NFCs) periodically from 1909 to 1977-78.

The striking per capita increase in meat, poultry and fish consumption is due mainly to our greater use of beef and poultry.

From 1900 to 1980, beef consumption increased by three-fourths, reflecting our preference for new, more tender grain-fed beef as well as a greater demand for ground beef products that are featured by fast-food outlets.

During this same period, poultry consumption increased more than three-and-a-half times, with most of the increase in the past 30 years.

Around 1950, poultry became competitive with meat, and more recently the ever-expanding fast-food establishments have become large users of broilers.

In addition, new methods of raising chickens have lowered production costs and made chicken an attractive buy in a period of inflation.

The 1977-78 NFCs showed the popularity of meat, poultry and fish. More than 90 percent of the respondents reported eating at least one of these food groups on the day of the survey.

The average daily intake of these foods, including mixtures containing them, was slightly more than seven ounces per person.

DAIRY PRODUCTS. Consumption of dairy products other than butter has also increased. Today, it is about one-fourth higher than at the beginning of the century — although almost 15 percent lower than its peak in the mid-1940s.

There have, however, been dramatic changes in the mix of dairy products consumed. Currently we eat more than four times as much cheese as we did in 1900 — a reflection of the growing popularity of pizza and of cheese and crackers as snack foods.

In contrast, we have seen a continuing decline in the consumption of fluid whole milk in the past 25 years.

This is probably a result of the declining proportion of children in our population. Concerns about diet may also have played a part in this decline, since the use of fluid lowfat milks increased substantially during this period.

FATS AND OILS. Fat and oil consumption in 1980 was about one-and-a-half times as much as in the early 1900s.

And there have been dramatic shifts in the types of fats consumed. We eat three-fourths less butter, two-thirds less lard.

In contrast, we are eating eight times more margarine — a reflection of the improved quality of the product and its price advantage over butter.

The growing demand for liquid oil by food manufacturers, the fast-food industry, and consumers alike has also led to a sharp increase in the use of cooking and salad oils in the past three decades.

AMERICA'S SWEET TOOTH. America's sweet tooth has continued to grow. Consumption of sugar and other sweeteners is up one-half since the early 1900s.

The use of refined sugars has recently declined, but this has been more than offset by a four-fold increase in the use of corn syrup.

Soft-drink consumption, which has tripled in the past 20 years to over 38 gallons per person, accounts for almost one-fifth of our total use of sweeteners.

But, while Americans eat more sugar in their processed foods and beverages, they are trying to cut back on their use of "visible" sugars.

Our 1977 intake of sugar, syrups, honey, molasses, jellies, jams and candy was only one-third to one-half what it was in 1905, according to the NFCs.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Despite the urgings of generations of mothers to "eat your vegetables," our per capita consumption of fruits and vegetables has not changed much from the beginning of the century and is, in fact, down slightly from the peak levels of the mid-1940s.

But there has been a remarkable shift from fresh to processed fruits and vegetables, in fact, down slightly from the peak levels of the mid-1940s.

These research findings and our changing diet led the U.S. Department of Agriculture and U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to issue a set of dietary guidelines for Americans in 1980.

These guidelines included recommendations for reducing our consumption of fats, sugar and salt.

If Americans are truly concerned about their health, we are likely to see a turnaround in some of the trends that have been developing in the American diet.

He was formerly with the agriculture Department's Economic Research Service, where he was involved in economic analyses and policy formulation regarding livestock and feed.

He is the author or co-author of 60 articles and publications.

ZANGARAS' ATTEMPT. On Feb. 15, 1933, Giuseppe Zangara attempted to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt in Miami, Fla.

Most of these are in the form of French fries, with the fast-food industry using about three-fourths of all the frozen French fries packed.

Egg consumption, too, has decreased — only slightly from early in the century, but more than 25 percent from its peak consumption in the 1940s.

Changes in lifestyles, such as skipping breakfast — as well as research suggesting a link between cholesterol and heart disease — may account for the decline in average egg consumption.

Interestingly, though, this decline has not been uniform: fewer people eat eggs now than in 1967, according to NFCs data, but those who do eat them eat more.

The egg use decline was particularly noticeable among young men under 35.

These changes in the amounts and kinds of foods that make up the American diet have altered the levels of nutrients we consume.

Of greatest concern are the new higher levels of fats and sugar. In excessive amounts, they have been associated with heart problems.

More county layoffs likely during 1982

By JIM SCHLUETER
Six persons in the office of Madison County Superintendent of Assessments James Barton were laid off Monday and more layoffs may be on the way.

Barton, at a County Board finance committee meeting, blamed county board-negotiated pay raises for the situation.

Member Jack Franden was loud and clear about when the contract was voted: committee member Fred Dalton said.

Besides the employees raises, Barton also cited contributions to the Board of Review as a reason for his department's financial woes.

He estimated that his department furnishes two full-time employees to the Board of Review and provides other services. "We could still utilize our people if you would raise the budget of the Board of Review," Barton said.

"But when you give our people a raise, it reduces the services we can give to the county. We'll have to reduce hours."

"My question is where do we stand with respect to the money allocated to us?" Barton said.

"Should we consume the amount in the budget and then lay off people? The county board has effectively raised the salaries of these people to the point where we can't use them."

Barton's department gets its funding from two special tax funds and they both are currently at the maximum tax rate.

In 1982, the department has a budget of $24,000; Barton said that hasn't been enough.

"You take $1,040 (the amount of the raise) times the number of employees, and you come close to $50,000 short," Barton said.

The first six layoffs were effective Monday, and it will take another month or more to determine how many more employees will have to be let go.

Scholarship panel expects record applicant volume

Reductions in federal student financial aid and the economic recession are expected to yield a record number of applicants for the Illinois State Scholarship Commission's Monetary Award Program for next fall.

Because the ISSC expects to be appropriated about the same amount of money as was available this year, the Commission is urging continuing college enrollment to file before June 1, 1982, and new students no later than Oct. 1, 1982, for full-year grant consideration.

The Commission will shortly begin mailing letters to all 1981-82 ISSC applicants detailing the need for filing prior to June 1. But, in order to better plan funds allocation, the June 1 deadline will not be restricted only to prior applicants. The deadline is also applicable to any students enrolled in Illinois colleges during 1981-82 who wish to apply for 1982-83.

The Commission has also greatly simplified the application process by eliminating its separate form and for the 1982-83 school year will "piggyback" the national forms. Students make application to ISSC by checking "yes" to the "permission to send information" questions and the end of any one of the three approved applications.

The applications which have been approved are the Application for Federal Student Aid (AFSA), the Family Financial Statement (FFS), or the Financial Aid Form (FAF). Only one of the three forms is filed by the student. The college financial aid office determines which of the three forms should be filed for its aid programs.

Unlike federal programs of aid, the ISSC Monetary Award is limited to tuition and some fees up to a maximum of $1,050 per year. The program is based on financial need and can be utilized by Illinois residents planning to attend ISSC approved colleges. Applicants are currently available at college financial aid offices and high school counseling offices.

Delyte Morris memorials to SIU scholarship fund

The Delyte W. Morris Scholarship Fund at Southern Illinois University Foundation at Edwardsville or Carbondale, has been designated by the family of the former president of SIU for memorial contributions in his name.

Dr. Morris died at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, April 10, 1982, one day before his 75th birthday, at the Union County Nursing Home in Anna, Ill. He had been suffering from Alzheimer's disease since December 1976.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Shryock Auditorium on the SIU-Carbondale campus. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery, Collinsville.

As the architect of SIU's explosive growth from a small-town "normal" school to an internationally recognized university in just over 20 years, Dr. Morris guided the university through what higher education expert M. M. Chambers once termed "an educational miracle" during his years as president from 1941 to 1970.

"His dreams took on powerful dimensions, which were matched by his dedication to their fulfillment," said a degree citation from the University of Iowa stated.

Time magazine created Dr. Morris for realizing two burning ambitions for SIU—"Improving life in 31 sprawling counties of 'Egypt' (Southern Illinois), and creating a school of excellence."

Born April 11, 1907, in rural Xenia, Ill., Dr. Morris attended Xenia public schools and Flora High School. He was graduated from Park College, Parkville, Mo., in 1928, received a master's degree from the University of Maine in 1934, and earned a Ph.D. in speech and psychology in 1936 at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Morris began his career in education as a high school teacher at Sulphur, Okla., in 1928, went on to serve as instructor at the University of Maine, speech department chairman at Kansas City Junior College and Indiana State University and was professor of speech and director of speech and hearing clinics at Ohio State University from 1946 until 1948.

He became SIU's eighth president in 1948 and guided the university's growth from a small rural institution with a student body of about 3,000 and a faculty of 250 to a two-campus university boasting 35,000 students at campuses in Carbondale and Edwardsville.

At the time of his retirement in 1970, SIU was ranked 17th in the nation by enrollment.

Although Dr. Morris presided over the growth of SIU from a distinctly small-town institution to a university that draws students from every state in the Union and more than 70 foreign nations, he always held a conviction that SIU's first duty was to the people of Southern Illinois.

"We are convinced that our greatest contribution to the state will come from concentration on the problems of the large region that surrounds us," he said in his inaugural address.

"Our primary concern is for the future of Southern Illinois which we feel a fundamental duty to serve." To meet this goal, he brought about the founding of SIU's well-known Vocational-Technical Institute (now the School of Technical Careers at Carbondale), which aimed at giving practically oriented technical and vocational education to the youth of Southern Illinois, and the department of community development, which helped battle the problems of aging Southern Illinois towns.

To extend the university's educational offerings to southern Illinois, Dr. Morris arranged to lease the old Shortell College campus in Alton as an SIUC campus. That move, linked to SIU's pioneer off-campus center in East St. Louis, eventually led to what is now SIUC National Council on Educating the Disadvantaged in Washington, D.C.

Following his retirement in 1970, he served for a year as president emeritus of SIU and then became executive director of the National Council on Educating the Disadvantaged in Washington, D.C.

Among the survivors are his widow, Dorothy Mayo Morris; two sons, Michael Morris of Clemson, S.C., and Peter Morris of Shepherdstown, W. Va.; a brother, L. E. Morris of Collinsville; a sister, Mrs. Howard (Zella) M. Jayne of Kirkwood, Mo.; and three grandchildren.

Support for wool producers

According to M. Lee Rogers, executive director of the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, 61 producers in Madison County will receive a total of $2,265 on wool sales.

The 1981 national average market price for short wool was 94.3 cents a pound, 15 cents less than the $1.35 per pound support price, Rogers said. Dividing the difference by the price of wool, the average market price up to the support price.

Producers will receive $1.62 per hundredweight in federal payments for unborn lambs they sold or slaughtered in 1981. This payment is to compensate growers for wool on live lambs sold in 1980.

The payment rate, based on the short wool payment rate, the average weight of wool per hundredweight of lambs, and the price of lambs' wool relative to the national average price for short wool.

Promotion Fund Deductions are 2.5 cents a pound for short wool and 12.5 cents a hundredweight for unborn lambs. This money is forwarded to the American Sheep Producers' Council to finance advertising, sales promotion, and related market development activities, he said.

The Lamb and Wool Programs encourage the production of higher quality wool.

ARMY PARACHUTE DEMONSTRATION SET

The Golden Knights, the Army's world champion parachute team from Ft. Bragg, N.C., will demonstrate their free-fall jumping skills Sunday at Busch Stadium. The demonstration will begin at 1 p.m., prior to the St. Louis Cardinals baseball game against Philadelphia at 1:15 p.m.

The Golden Knights have performed a mere more than 20 million spectators in 24 foreign nations and throughout all 50 states.

While manuevering in free-fall from altitudes of up to 13,000 feet, they plunge earthward at speeds nearing 200 mph before opening their parachutes to glide to a stand-up landing in the demonstration area. While free-falling, the jumpers perform various intricate maneuvers visible to spectators as the trails of smoke billowing from the smoke grenades clamped to the jumpers' boots.

33rd degree Mason and a member of the Lions and Elks.

Earlier this year, Dr. Morris was inducted into the Lincoln Academy, Illinois' Lincoln Academy, received honorary degrees from McKendree College, Lincoln College and the University of Iowa.

Following his retirement in 1970, he served for a year as president emeritus of SIU and then became executive director of the National Council on Educating the Disadvantaged in Washington, D.C.

Among the survivors are his widow, Dorothy Mayo Morris; two sons, Michael Morris of Clemson, S.C., and Peter Morris of Shepherdstown, W. Va.; a brother, L. E. Morris of Collinsville; a sister, Mrs. Howard (Zella) M. Jayne of Kirkwood, Mo.; and three grandchildren.

May is Clean Stream Month

Stream cleanup projects to protect our waterways are being urged during the month of May as part of the Clean Stream Month program proclaimed by Governor James R. Thompson.

"During this time, citizens are urged to direct their efforts toward stream cleanup projects to promote the use and protection of our water and recreational resources," Gov. Thompson said in his proclamation.

Groups already have scheduled spring cleanups of litter and trash along waterways, parks and school grounds. This is the sixth year that environmental, educational, service and civic groups promote activities in keeping with the goals of Clean Streams Month.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of Conservation.

Strikes off-duty police officer

Carl B. "Buddy" Womack, 26, of Granite City, was being held in Madison City jail pending the posting of $3,500 bond on charges of disorderly conduct and battery. Womack, 26, was Tuesday, allegedly struck Madison Police Officer Thomas Voloski in the face with a beer bottle at the corner of Sixth Street and Madison Avenue.

Voloski, while off duty, was making a right turn from the northbound lane of Madison Avenue onto Sixth Street in Madison, when he heard a loud noise as though something had hit his face. Voloski stopped to check what happened and allegedly Womack came up to him, struck him in the face with the beer bottle, ran to an auto and fled.

Voloski went to the Madison Police Station and gave a report and description of the alleged assailant and vehicle. Womack's vehicle was stopped by Granite City police at 22nd Street and Washington Avenue. Womack allegedly was in an intoxicated state.

Voloski suffered minor cuts to the right side of his upper and lower lips. He also suffered a bruise on his forehead. Granite City, who was allegedly with Womack, also is being held by Madison police on charges of assault and disorderly conduct. Nelson reportedly refused to give police booking information, was kicking, shouting, cursing and threatening officers.

Nelson was described by one officer as being "excited, belligerent and very intoxicated."

Thompson supports judicial merit plan

Governor James R. Thompson reaffirmed his support Monday for approval of pending legislation that would allow voters to cast ballots on the issue of judicial merit selection in the November general election.

"The list of co-sponsors on this piece of legislation shows that this is a bipartisan effort and a local option for each judicial circuit to adopt the merit selection program for its associate and circuit judges."

Nominating commissions composed of lawyers and non-lawyers would recommend three candidates for each vacancy to the governor. The governor would wait 28 days for public and media comment before making the final selection.

Under House Joint Resolution Constitutional Amendment 13, a merit selection system for Supreme and Appellate court vacancies would be established. This would be a local option for each judicial circuit to adopt the merit selection program for its associate and circuit judges.

Thompson said a recent study by the Committee on Courts and Justice points out that 25 of the 38 circuit general election have candidates who are unopposed.

"This amounts to 66 percent of these 38 seats being filled already, months before the general election is to take place," Thompson said.

The House and Senate have until early May to approve, by a 60 percent majority, the proposed amendment to qualify it for the November ballot. If approved, the legislation will go onto the fall ballot.

Under House Joint Resolution Constitutional Amendment 13, a merit selection system for Supreme and Appellate court vacancies would be established. This would be a local option for each judicial circuit to adopt the merit selection program for its associate and circuit judges.

Thompson said a recent study by the Committee on Courts and Justice points out that 25 of the 38 circuit general election have candidates who are unopposed.

POLICE AND ROTARIANS gathered Tuesday to announce the purchase of versatile television equipment. It will be used by law enforcement and investigative officers in a wide variety of ways. From the left are Alderman Warren Decatur, a past Rotary president who was this week's program chairman; Detective Captain Robert Astorian; Police Chief Ronald Veizer; Robert Maxwell, Rotary president; Lt. Col. George Teller, assistant chief; Detective Sgt. Don Knight; and Detective Craig Nomm.

Library Board abandons Wabash site for new branch facility

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

Homeowners' protests have substantially killed the prospect for a future Granite City Public Library branch located behind Wabash Avenue.

Mayor Paul Schuler met with the board Tuesday and agreed that a library facility is needed in that area, but advised the board not to "start off on the wrong foot."

Schuler said that to continue plans to use the Wabash site would mean that the board would initially face two strikes — lack of resident acceptance as well as the lack of funding already being experienced.

Haig Nighossian, nominated as new board president Tuesday evening, said board members need receiving verbal complaints from homeowners in the Wabash Avenue area over the past few years.

Schuler suggested the new branch site should be located somewhere along Maryville Road, Retiring President Joan Yetter said that also is the choice of the board.

"Get some input on where it should be," Schuler suggested. The board should seriously consider a trade off of property and/or money for the land now owned by the library, according to the mayor.

Mrs. Yetter pointed out problems with the current branch library project is the "honorary" role for GC couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lamb of Eau Claire, Wis., became the parents of their third child, a son, born at 8:40 a.m. Wednesday at a hospital there.

The infant, who weighed seven pounds, four ounces and has been named Thomas-John Robert, is the "honorary" grandchild of City Clerk Robert Stevens and Mrs. Valerie Stevens of Granite City.

Mrs. Lamb is the former Marjina Pesta, daughter of Mrs. Mary Virginia Pesta of Mankato, Minn., formerly of Granite City, and a cousin of Robert Stevens.

The mother said the Stevens' have been designated the infant's godparents as a special surprise gesture due to the closeness of the local couple to herself and her husband.

Friends that Mr. and Mrs. Lamb already have mailed a box of lollipops, each tied with a blue ribbon and bearing the infant's name, to the Stevens for distribution at City Hall and to pupils in the Madison schools, where Mrs. Stevens is music director.

having difficulty getting started. "I think you should cross that (site) off," Schuler said of the branch property.

Board member Ronald Coleman said the property — located between St. Clair Avenue and Johnson Road and behind St. John's Lutheran Church — is not accessible and would mean the library would have to build a driveway to the site, he said.

Funding is the other prime consideration before construction can begin. The board now has about $100,000 in a building fund with another $30,000 possible in the form of a Granite City Township contribution.

Schuler warned the board about approaching industries for funding — a plan they had been considering when or feed grains to sign up by tomorrow, because "the April 16 deadline for program signing will not be extended."

"I am concerned that some farmers may be wanting on an extension of the sign-up date, as has been the case in some past programs," Rogers said.

Rogers noted that participation has been very good. "As of April 2, 101.3 million acres had been enrolled in the upland cotton, feed grains, rice and wheat programs, which is almost 45 percent of the total base acreage eligible for enrollment in the acreage reduction program," he said.

Morris' leadership a key element in creating SIUE

Delyte W. Morris—whose death occurred April 10 at Anna, Ill., the day before his 75th birthday—may not have been the best known Madison County area educator, but he had a tremendous impact here: Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was established during his 23 years as SIUE president.

The local university was launched in the 1950s as an extension center, and its spacious, handsome Madison County campus was first opened to students in 1965.

An activist whose university growth plans meshed admirably with the needs of southern and southwestern Illinois in the post-World War II era, Dr. Morris left an imprint that perhaps never again will be duplicated.

Despite controversies during the latter stages of his service, his administration remains "a tough act to follow" a dozen years after his retirement.

Under his forceful leadership, SIUE at Carbondale grew to become one of the largest universities in the United States. SIUE played a highly constructive role in expanding the college-educated portion of the local population.

When he went to Carbondale in 1948 as SIUE's eighth president, the university consisted of six buildings in a one-block-square area. Enrollment totaled less than 5,000.

At the time of his retirement, there were 35,000 students, making SIUE the 17th largest university system in the United States. Its major instruction centers were located on 800 acres at SIUE and 2,600 acres at SIUC.

SIUC in 1970 had 200 buildings valued at more than $225 million, and it has grown considerably since then. Illinois' investment in SIUE by now may exceed $100 million.

The overall SIU program, now led by a chancellor, includes a law school in Carbondale, a medical school in Springfield-Carbondale and a school of dental medicine in Alton-Edwardsville.

It was Dr. Morris who spearheaded efforts to develop improved facilities for disadvantaged students; the university became and remains one of the most accessible in the nation. And he pioneered providing university services in East St. Louis.

Such a multitude of accomplishments would have been impossible without the effective, cooperative efforts of such people as President Morris, 1950-63 State Superintendent George T. Wilkins of Madison and Granite City, the late State Representative Lloyd C. Harris of Granite City, the late House Leader Paul Powell and many more.

In partial recognition of Dr. Morris' contributions to the betterment of Madison County, SIUE's mail is known as Morris Quadrangle.

His vision of service to a broad region rather than just the immediate campus environs is no longer a theoretical concept but a lasting reality, forever changing the history of our state and in countless ways upgrading the quality of life here and in many other communities.

In the words of our state senator, Sam M. Vadalabene, Dr. Morris' "far-sightedness and aggressiveness" transformed Southern Illinois University and the southern half of this state.

SIUE President Earl Lazerson agrees and speaks of the late university administrator as "one of the greatest figures in the entire field of higher education in the 20th Century."

No educator achieves all that he might aspire to, but Delyte Morris made tangible, impressive progress toward the goals that he outlined for Southern Illinois University.

"To exalt beauty, to advance learning, to forward ideas and ideals and to become a center of order and light—that knowledge may lead to understanding, and understanding to wisdom."

Tough to make ends meet if you've got a lot of friends

"Tongue-in-cheek comment by Dennis McMurtry, Illinois Telegraph—I don't know about you, but for I am sick and tired of the constant attacks from the Chicago news media, recently on our governor, Jim Thompson.

First they were sniping at him for using campaign funds to buy expensive gifts for aides, friends and political contributors and paying for some of the babysitting expenses for daughter Samantha.

Then it was carrying over the governor's request to Sen. Charles Percy that his wife Jayne be considered among the applicants for a federal judgeship.

Next came potshots at the guy for accepting campaign contributions and getting discounts from a Chicago antique dealer once convicted of receiving a stolen painting.

The latest "revelation" was how the governor flew at state expense to a posh resort at Galena where he and Mrs. T. stayed free of charge as guest of the management.

Picky, Picky, Picky.

What's the big deal, anyway?

What's so wrong about a guy being generous to his friends and employees and trying to help his wife's career?

The people who gave the governor those campaign contributions certainly did it strictly out of admiration for our state's leader (and a tax deduction, right)?

I haven't heard how he used the money.

It's also offensive to have a defenseless pre-school tot like Samantha dragged through the headlines through no fault of her own.

Paying a babysitter to take care of Samantha is certainly a better use of that money than buying a bunch of campaign bumper stickers, right?

I think most of the people of Illinois understand and sympathize with the difficulty of supporting a family of three on a $88,000 a year salary, especially if you have a Christmas gift list as long as the governor's.

Besides, the governor's gift giving has already improved international relations.

This was shown when the governor recently presented a corncob pipe to the visiting president of Italy, who reportedly responded (through an interpreter), "I want to thank you for buying me this with your campaign contributions."

Everything the Italian president's constituents see him light up that corncob pipe, it's more goodwill for Illinois in a world filled with too much strife.

Perhaps if British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher had given corncob pipes to the Argentine junta there wouldn't be all this fuss about the Pakland Island, the so-called "scoops."

One of these scoops the governor had purchased a $300 antique pig for U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block, an Illinois hog farmer.

It seems to me Thompson should be given credit for this cleverness in selecting such an appropriate gift. I'm sure all Illinoisians are proud of John Block for being elevated to such a high position.

It was also reported the governor bought a couple of sweaters as gifts for his press secretary, David Gilbert.

Gilbert is the governor's principal voice to the press and public when Thompson himself can't be reached for comment.

If Gilbert didn't have some nice warm sweaters for the cold Illinois winters, he might be constantly catching colds and his voice would be so hoarse he couldn't talk. Where would we be then?

As for the trip to Galena, I don't hear much criticism of President Ronald Reagan when he flies to Barbados for a working vacation.

I don't remember any of this sniping when President Jimmy Carter would stay at his rich friend's place on Sea Island or when President Richard Nixon would visit his various rich friends.

You can't expect our governmental leaders to stay at Motel 6's.

Politics is a tension-filled occupation with constant cheap shots from the press and political foes. The governor and his family deserve a little luxury when they go somewhere.

I'm also sick and tired generally of the Chicago media bullying our governor.

Remember a few years back when they hounded him so much about taking a vacation in Florida while the state was being hit with a big snowstorm? He had to cut his trip short.

If you're as fed up with this media persecution as I am, why don't you drop the governor a line and let him know?

It not only should cheer him up, but maybe being a generous fellow, he'll add your name to his Christmas list (you might want to drop a few gift hints).

By the way, I'm particularly fond of navy blue crewneck sweaters myself (size 40 or Large).

For years I've also really wanted a genuine antique "tongue-in-cheek" for my desk. Perhaps the place in Chicago that gives the discounts might have one.

Caution on 'harmless' diet pills

By GERALDINE L. BOWER, Ph.D.
University of Illinois
Extension Adviser

Americans are prone to pop pills for whatever ails them, and overweight Americans are no exception.

Recent statistics show that diet pill sales reached an all-time high of $200 million in 1980, double the amount sold in 1979.

An advisory body to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration reported in 1979 that, with two exceptions, most ingredients used in over-the-counter weight control programs were neither safe nor effective.

One of those exceptions is phenylpropionamide (PPA), which drug companies have begun using to make a whole new generation of diet pills.

PPA is used as a nasal decongestant in many cold and hay fever remedies. The FDA panel also found it to be safe and effective in curbing appetite, and it is now a common ingredient found in all major over-the-counter diet pills.

However, while manufacturers of diet pills containing PPA advertise their products as safe and effective in U.S. government tests, in actuality the Food and Drug Administration has not endorsed PPA.

A research project done since 1979 on use of PPA-containing diet pills instead shows they are ineffective in helping women maintain weight loss.

In the study, one group of women took diet pills, a second group took the pills and engaged in behavior therapy, and a third group received behavior therapy but no pills. All groups received nutrition counseling.

After six months, average weight losses for each of the three groups were recorded.

While the pills seemed to help with initial weight loss, they did not seem to have a positive effect on weight-loss maintenance 12 months later.

A follow-up done at that time showed that the women who learned to cope with their eating habits maintained the highest percent of total weight loss, while women who depended on appetite-suppressant pills regained most of their initial loss.

It appears that while diet pills can be a helpful crutch in the weight loss, they may make it more difficult for the dieter to keep weight off in the long run.

Countless studies show that weight isn't even half the battle. It's keeping it off that most individuals find so difficult.

Cable show features local artists

"The Extension People" a 30-minute cable television program produced by Madison County Extension staff each month, is featuring the Town & Country Art Show through April on Southwestern Cable TV Channel 11.

The program airs Mondays at 6 p.m., Thursdays at noon and Fridays at 10 a.m.

The 30-minute show features 12 minutes of commentary on works of artists in Granite City, Roxana, Alton, Edwardsville, Troy, Collinsville and Highland. Also featured are interviews with two local amateur artists and a slide series of photographs.

It is our hope that this visual presentation of county-wide amateur art will encourage more artists to enter their work and create public interest in attending the show May 14 through 16.

At Overstock Paint and Wallpaper Store in Edwardsville, Geraldine Bower, University of Illinois Extension advisor, commented.

Further information about the May Art Show is available by calling the University of Illinois Extension office, 1-466-9400.

Red 'hoose' around the Caribbean basin

To the Editor:
I was surprised to learn recently that "Lou Grant" and some other TV and movie actors had formed a committee to aid the Salvadoran guerrillas, declaring that these enemies of the United States are not their enemies.

I am compiling a book on world geopolitics and am learning some interesting facts that I would like to communicate to these actors: Soviet military power is expanding not only around the world but in our front yard.

For instance, look at a map of the Caribbean and observe how it is being surrounded by Communist military bases. They have three military airfields in Cuba, submarine pens, a massive stockpile of munitions, including surface-to-air missiles, and MIG jets.

This arsenal is being replenished by a greater rate than ever.

Then draw a line in a southern tropical forest in Nicaragua and see that the Soviet-supplied Sandinistas are clearing out Meskites Indians from their tribal land in the remote northeastern sector of the country and calling it military action at Pato Cabeza that will not only threaten Honduras but provide the second leg of the renege that surrounds the Caribbean.

The highly informative Newsweekly from Melbourne, Australia, has some disturbing comments on Central America.

"Yet another evidence of Nicaragua's abandonment of any pretensions of a pluralistic society is the offer made by Soviet Ambassador Shlyapnikov that Moscow would come to the aid of Managua in the event of an U.S.-assisted military action against it."

"Managua was recently involved in the massacre of rebellious Meskites Indians who crossed into Honduras as refugees.

"In so doing, observers state, the Sandinistas are repopulating an area of the Atlantic coast in preparation for the creation of a security area for Cuban, Soviet and Eastern bloc military facilities."

"Deep water ports are being created at Bluefields and Puerto Cabezas — for possible use as Soviet submarine bases."

"Soviet MIG jets are already in the area, as are Libyan, Palestinian, Cuban and Soviet pilots."

"Nicaragua now has a string of bases close to the Honduran border. Managua no longer makes any secret of its aid to the Salvadoran guerrillas."

Through a sophisticated communications system and supply line, the Salvadoran guerrillas are constantly in touch with their Nicaraguan bases for arms that are replenished almost daily.

"In recent months, the 5,000 hard-core Salvadoran guerrillas, who had been trained in Nicaragua and Cuba, moved their training camps and arms repair facilities into El Salvador, aided by East bloc technicians."

"Yes, 'Lou Grant,' our sworn enemies are quickly drawing a Red nose around the Caribbean basin."

Emblem called way to save lives

To the Editor:
An emblem can save lives. Our son was injured during recess at school. The secretary at the school had noted his Medic Alert bracelet, and he was immediately, I, in turn, called the doctor.

"Since my son, in my opinion, is a very athletic child, we feel his Medic Alert bracelet is necessary."

Once he broke his leg on the soccer field, the others knew he wore a Medic Alert bracelet and his father was notified immediately, and when he was admitted to the emergency room, the intern called our doctor before he gave any medication."

This is the testimony of the parent of a child allergic to penicillin, sulfa and acid foods. It is only one example of the thousands who have written Medic Alert bracelets for their lives.

For the past 28 years the non-profit Medic Alert Foundation has been providing a complete system of emergency medical identification. 1.2 million Americans belong to Medic Alert.

In an emergency, a life is saved by the Medic Alert emblem designed to tell rescuers of the wearer's special medical problem.

According to the American Medical Association, one out of every five Americans has a hidden medical condition like diabetes, epilepsy, a heart condition, hemophilia or asthma.

It could also mean that the individual is allergic to a medication or must take a special diet.

Other reasons for joining include wearing contact lenses, being an organ donor or a scuba diver.

There are almost 200 reasons for wearing a Medic Alert bracelet or necklace.

Medic Alert offers a three-way protection system and here's how it works:
1. The member's special medical problem is engraved on the back of the emblem along with a notification number plus a toll-free 24-hour-a-day phone number to Medic Alert's Emergency Medical Identification Information Data Center.

The center provides detailed information within seconds from data stored in the member's file. This can and does save lives.

Ill. Initiative petition needs support of the public

To the Editor:
Illinois government belongs to the people, not to the politicians. With that principle set firmly in their minds, thousands of citizens will spend their April weekends collecting signatures to put the Illinois Initiative on the November referendum ballot.

When April began, the Coalition for Political Honesty had collected 138,000 of the 252,000 petition signatures it must collect by April 30. We're confident that with the hard work of a million concerned citizens, we can beat the deadline.

In 1980, the coalition gathered more than 200,000 signatures during the last four weeks of the petition drive for the successful legislative amendment, which next year will reduce the size of the Illinois House by one-third.

If passed, the Illinois Initiative would enable voters to enact statewide law by petition and referendum. Citizens could bypass do-nothing politicians and pass tough ethics laws, eliminate a m-e-d-e pay raises and doubling and do something about skyrocketing utility rates.

In the last five years, Illinois electric rates have increased 93 percent and natural gas rates 105 percent, while the inflation rate has increased only 65 percent. The General Assembly has done nothing because utility companies and their high-powered Springfield lobbyists have a stranglehold on state legislators.

It's obvious that Illinois must join the 22 other states—including Michigan, Missouri and Ohio in the Midwest—which already have the initiative power.

I urge you and your readers to support the Illinois Initiative petition drive in these final weeks.

There is still plenty of time to fill a petition or two with the signatures of relatives, neighbors, coworkers and friends.

Anyone interested in passing an initiative petition may write to the Coalition for Political Honesty, Post Office Box 708, Oak Park, Ill., 60063, or phone 1-312-524-1978.

Retiree disputes statistics

To the Editor:
The letter from the President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, published in your paper on Thursday, April 15, was called to my attention. After reading the letter, I was reminded of a line by Andrew Lang: "He uses statistics as a drunken man uses lamp posts — for support rather than for illumination."

Mr. Lesher uses various figures in the billions of dollars, some percentages, and then general statements to conclude that the raised growth of the cost-of-living — adjustments (COLA) is a major cause of runaway federal spending and that a freeze of the COLAs is a seasonal measure that would not cause undue suffering among retirees.

The federal civilian retirement system was established in 1920. From 1920 to 1958, the government failed to match the employee contributions. Also, from 1920 to 1969, Congress authorized certain benefit liberalizations without funding their retirement costs. Then in 1969, the Congress amended the law in order to rectify its past omissions.

These remedies, required to correct almost 50 years of past omissions, were provided during a period of inflation and, therefore, increased their cost to the government. The retiree did not cause inflation, but remains a victim of it.

Mr. Lesher, like most critics translates the high cost of prior neglect and the high cost of interest into lavish incomes for federal retirees. He neglects to mention that the average federal retiree receives $918 per month (approximately $900 per month) and the average federal survivor recipient receives $392 per month (approximately $400 per month) (approximately 54 percent receive $300 or under) — before deductions for income taxes; health insurance or survivor protection. Yes, the federal civilian retiree pays income tax and premiums for health insurance, if he wants it.

Alton relief pitcher sends Steelers reeling

IN THE DIRT. Carl Luehmman of Granite City North slides under Alton catcher Dave Stupperich to score the Steeler's final run in the third inning of North's 8-4 loss at Alton Tuesday. Luehmman, who hit a double to drive Steve Trittschuh home, scored on a two-base error by Alton's second baseman.

By ROGER KRAMER

ALTON — George Stupperich was the only pitcher Alton High baseball coach Felix Macias knew he could rely on before the season started. Granite City North found out why Tuesday.

Just after the Steelers had taken a 4-3 lead in the non-conference game, Macias replaced starter Don Zeigler with Stupperich. The Steelers didn't score another run, and the Redbirds defeated North 8-4.

"I guess we have to hope for rain between the times George starts," Macias said. "He's been the only one winning for us."

"We knew George was going to be our number one pitcher, and we didn't know who was going to be our second, third and fourth pitchers. He's a serious pitcher," Macias said.

North, 2-5 this season, has played five non-conference games. The Steelers have lost all five of them.

"We've got to start winning the non-conference games," North coach Bob Stegemeier said. "It seems we don't take the non-conference games seriously. We've got to do some things differently."

North scored twice off Zeigler in the third inning. Steve Trittschuh singled, advanced to third on a sacrifice bunt by Brian Levin.

Carl Luehmman hit a double to score Trittschuh. Luehmman, trying to stretch the hit, got to third and scored

"We don't have the winning attitude right now. We have to start winning again. We've got to do something different. If we don't start producing we'll have to make changes."

because of an error by Alton's second baseman.

Macias immediately put Stupperich in the game. Stupperich and the Redbirds were almost untouchable from that point on.

In his 4 2/3 innings of work, Stupperich gave up just one hit, a fourth inning single by North's Kevin Hayes. The Redbirds, which committed four errors in the first three innings, made just one error when Stupperich took over.

Alton's offense also took a turn for the best once Stupperich pitched. John Green walked and Tim Bennett and Barry Macias hit back-to-back singles. Green scored on a fielder's choice and Bennett scored on a sacrifice fly to give Alton a 5-4 lead at the bottom of the third.

The Redbirds had runners on first and second in the sixth inning, and North catcher Daren DePew threw out the runner at first for the second out and seemingly got North out of another jam.

However, Mike Maher, Alton's number nine batter walked. Ron Twiehell drove in two runs with a double and scored on an error and gave Alton its winning margin.

The mistakes the Steelers made has Stegemeier concerned about his team.

"The mental errors we made hurt us as much as the physical errors we made," Stegemeier said. "We didn't play aggressively and we played lackadaisically. We were standing in the wrong places on the cutoffs."

"We left a lot of runners on base (seven), and we're not getting the hits. We can't seem to hit good pitching. We should have won most of those games we lost, but we let them all come back and beat us several times," Stegemeier said.

North committed just two errors, but they cost the Steelers four runs. The little things are still adding up to losses for the Steelers.

"We don't have a winning attitude right now. We have to start winning again. We've got to do something different. If we don't start producing, we'll have to make changes," Stegemeier said.

Ray Takmajian took the loss for the Steelers. Alton got eight hits off the North starter, but it was the errors that hurt him most.

"Takmajian hasn't pitched since we played New Lenox at Edwardsville a long time ago. It wasn't all his fault. We have to get our fielders to back him up better," Stegemeier said.

"We just have to keep winning conference games. We hope we can be 8-0 in the conference," Stegemeier said.

Hayes was 2-for-4 for the Steelers, the only Steeler to get two hits in the game.

Alton-Marquette edges Red Devils in opener

PLAY AT SECOND BASE. Marquette's Miss Gibbons slid under the late tag of Red Devil Lynette Crawford in the second inning of their game Tuesday afternoon. The Red Devils, trailing for most of the game, staged a comeback but lost in the final innings 22 to 18.

VENICE — Red Devil softball coach Ken Perkins summed up Tuesday's 22 to 18 loss to Alton-Marquette in few words.

"It was a wild one," Perkins said. From the beginning, the Lady Red Devils were playing catch-up softball.

At the end of one inning Marquette had sailed to a cool 7-0 lead. An untimely error by the Red Devils in the second inning gave Marquette a 9-1 lead by the innings end. At that point it looked as if the ladies in red were in big trouble.

Some of the early Red Devil problems resulted from pitcher Darlene Wigfall. She was having her problems, but so was the Marquette pitcher.

By the game's end Marquette pitching had dealt out 30 walks, while Madison pitching put fewer runners on base dealing 17.

Initially, Miss Wigfall was inconsistent. Some of her pitches were high while others skidded across the plate throwing dust.

By the third inning, Miss Wigfall and the Red Devils had overcome their "first-game jitters," and were well on the way for what appeared to be a comeback.

In the third inning the Red Devils outscored their Alton opponents 5-3 to trail by six at the innings end 12-4.

A spirited Red Devil team had an even better fourth inning. While holding Marquette to just three runs in the top

"I'm proud of these girls. We hit the ball better than I thought we would."

half of the inning, the Lady Red Devils managed nine runs of their own to begin the fifth inning even up at 18 all.

"By far that was our biggest inning," Perkins said. "As far as that goes, we scored 14 of our 18 runs in the third and fourth innings. Now I know what the girls can do. I know what to expect from them."

Despite the Red Devil comeback, Marquette managed to outscore the Red Devils 7-3 in the final three innings to secure the victory.

Venice

"We might have lost, but I'm proud of these girls. We hit the ball better than I thought we would," Perkins said. Perkins said he was particularly pleased with Lisa Harmon, Leticia Miller, Jackie Miller and Demetria Walker. Miss Harmon and Miss Miller each had two hits and scored twice. Miss Chalmers also managed two hits, but crossed the plate four times. Miss Walker also had two hits.

Marquette's outstanding play of the game is, ironically, from Madison. Norma Bellecoff, a junior at Marquette, could have been the difference in the game. Miss Bellecoff was three for four at the plate, scoring five runs, pounding two triples and a single, and walking twice.

The Red Devils play Worden this afternoon at home. The game begins at 4 p.m.

WINNING FORM. Michelle Staggs was the winning Warrior pitcher in Monday's game against Edwardsville. The Warriors won the game 8 to 7.

Lady Warriors explode, nip Tigers 8-7

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South exploded for seven runs in the fourth inning to claim a 8-7 victory from Edwardsville Monday afternoon.

The come-from-behind victory was encouraging for Pat Yates, South's coach. Going into the fourth inning, Edwardsville had a 6-1 lead.

"We made good contact, forced them to make some errors and we played good defense ourselves," Yates said. Edwardsville was their own worst enemy in the fourth inning. Edwardsville's southpaw pitcher, Kathy Southard, walked four batters. Her defensive corps didn't provide much help either, making four errors.

Most importantly for South, however, they got the key hits at the right time. In the fourth inning, the Warriors collected three hits and a sacrifice fly.

Seeing the girls make good contact with the ball renewed Yates' belief the girls were strong hitters. At the beginning of the season, she thought hitting would be South's strongpoint. Instead, the girls have been playing steady defense and have been unaggressive at the plate.

That is until the Edwardsville game. Yates felt the girls gave both strong offensive and defensive performances. The team had nine hits, with Anne Pulise and Vickie Smith each collecting two.

"I think they're concentrating a little more and knowing what they're going to do with the ball," Yates said. "I think we're playing together as a team better. We're getting used to each other and they're communicating better."

At the beginning of the season, Yates said nobody was taking the leadership role on the field. Now that the team has played four games, she has seen Kim

Ross, senior centerfielder, take charge in the outfield and Vicki Smith, sophomore shortstop, lead the infield.

Another encouraging factor for Yates in the Edwardsville game was the pitching performance of freshman Michelle Staggs. Miss Staggs walked the first three batters of the game, but

Trojanette tracksters edge Gibault

MADISON — In the last two years, Madison has won a district track meet, but the Trojanettes have been unable to win a dual track meet.

The Trojanettes finally broke the string Tuesday. Madison defeated Waterloo Gibault 68-59 here in a dual track meet.

Madison, weak in depth last season with only 11-13 girls throughout the year, put 25 girls out on the track Tuesday. The depth made a difference.

"Being able to field full relay teams without having to run everybody in all of them really helps us," Luvenia Long, Madison's girls track coach said.

The Trojanettes didn't clinch the meet until the final event, the 1600 meter relay. Gina Griggs, Lenora Williams, Miss Jenkins and Traci Parker won the 1600 relay in 4:40.4.

Madison also won the other three relay events, the 400, 800, and 600 medley, to help clinch the meet win.

Rose Clay, Jovanna Dillon, Cherri Ann and Jerri Ann Ware ran the 400 in 55.5, Regina Banks, Miss Clay, Miss Dillon and Jerri Ann Ware took the 800 relay in 1:59.3, and Linda Franklin, Gila Roberts, Miss Jenkins and Miss Parker won the 900 medley in 2:04.1.

Miss Banks was a double winner in the 100 and 300 hurdles. She ran the 100 in 16.8 seconds, and the 300 in 32.2 seconds. Robin Brown threw the shot put 29.3 to win that event, and Miss Clay won the long jump with a leap of 15'0".

The Trojanets had second place finishes in the 3200 meters, 100 meters, 400 meters, 200 meters, 200 meter hurdles, high jump, discus, and 200 meter hurdles.

Dawn Welby, Miss Tillion, Sherri Dew, Jerri Ann Ware, Miss Griggs, Miss Williams, and Miss Brown were the second place finishers.

"I'm really happy we were able to win this," Mrs. Long said. "I didn't realize this was the first time we've won a dual meet until Coach (Gene) Briggs told me about it."

"The important thing for us right now is not winning the dual meets and not getting good times, but working up our times. We should be peaking by next weekend," Mrs. Long said.

North, South tracksters live up to rivalry tradition

GRANITE CITY — Tuesday's Granite City South versus Granite North High School dual track meet may have pitted such rival against arch rival, but since the points were tallied and although North was declared the winner 80 to 66, there were no losers. Similarly, the Lady Steelers defeated their Warrior counterparts, 69 to 59.

The schools' traditional rivalry was evident in every event throughout the afternoon. The fact that it was an intracity meet only enhanced the desire of one to dominate the other.

Despite each's attempts, neither team dominated the other. That balance of strength led to an obvious mutual respect of both teams — a rare commodity in sports today.

"It was a spectator's meet. A meet where the leader changed as quickly as the track events.

"The meet was closer than expected, admittedly so by all coaches.

"I usually try to figure before the meet just what we'll win. I had figured to win the meet by 19 points," said North's coach Harry Lang. "South's got some talented kids. I think they're underrated."

Mel Bunting, South's track coach had similar praise for the Steelers.

"Harry's got some good kids out this year. In fact it's probably the best team he's had. They're a better balanced team."

Not all of Bunting's praise was for the Steelers however.

"We lost the meet on points, but you'd be hard pressed to find any losers from South," Bunting said. "We were the underdogs going into the meet and they knew it. All I wanted from my kids was 100 percent, and I got it."

Oddly enough with only three events left in the meet, the Warriors were leading the Steelers by five team points, 59-64.

In the final three events, the 200 meter dash, the mile relay and the triple jump, the Steelers outscored the Warriors 21 to 2 to come from behind and seal the victory.

South's girls coach Dave McLain said he too was pleased with his team's performance.

"We lost by only ten points. That's not that much. If we had gotten a break here and there we could have won the thing."

In much the same manner that North's boys dominated the relays, winning three of four, South with the help of Dave McLain and Jim McQuade, won the distance events.

North's 1600 meter relay ran their fastest time of the year: 3:38.9. South finished a close second at 3:39.0.

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, April 15, 1982 — 23

Warrior netters rack up first victory

GRANITE CITY — It's been a big week for tennis in the area. The week began in a big way with John McEnroe's visit to St. Louis on Monday to face the 100-plus mile-per-hour serve of Roscoe Tanner.

For the Warriors too, it's been a week packed with tennis. Unfortunately, so far it has been a week where the defeats have outnumbered the victories two to one.

Monday the Warriors took on the Edwardsville Tigers for their second conference match up. The Tigers, now 3-0 in the conference defeated the Warriors five games to two. Matt Sheridan won the second singles competition, and later teamed with John McEnroe for a come-from-behind victory to win the first doubles competition 4-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Tuesday in a match up with Belleville East, the Warriors once again emerged on the short end of the win column. The Lancers were rude hosts as they totally dominated the younger Warriors, winning seven games to none.

First singles John McEnroe lost to East's Alan Farmer 6-4, 6-1. Matt Sheridan also dropped his singles match to Larry Schutzenhofer 6-1, 6-2. In the third singles match, Charlie Miles fell to Belleville's Jeff Cox 6-0, 6-3. In the final singles match Kevin Dickerson lost to Mike Bevinava 6-1, 6-0.

In doubles competition, McEnroe and Sheridan dropped two sets to Cox and Farmer 6-4, 6-1. Miles and Brian Sparks lost to Schutzenhofer and Chris London 6-2, 6-1 and Don Kaltmayer and Rich Schierling lost to East's Scott

Granite South Warriors

Ottens and Jim Terschulose 6-0, 6-0. "I think we played the poorest we have so far this year," Harmon said of the Warriors' pairing with Belleville East. "It's the same old thing — we're just so young."

Yesterday the Warriors won their first team victory of the season. Just as decisively as the Lancers defeated the Warriors the day before, the Warriors shellacked the Shells 7-0.

"I'm obviously very happy about the win," said Harmon. "The kids really needed a win to boost their morale. The victory adjusts the Warrior record to 1-4 on the season."

This afternoon the Warriors will take on the Cahokia Comanches at 4 p.m. at their home courts located on Grand Ave. The pairing is a rescheduled postponement from April 5.

Tomorrow, the Warriors are again on their home court for a pairing against Triad. Matches also begin at 4 p.m.

Warrior diamondmen split pair with Tigers

By TERESA GULL of the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Granite City South's baseball team knows how to win the games that count.

Monday, they split a doubleheader with Edwardsville, winning the first game, 7-5, but losing the nightcap 10-0. But like John Modica, South head coach emphasized, the first game is the only game which counts in the standings for the Gateway East Conference.

"I was concerned we win the first game. That was the important one," Modica said. "I wanted to play some of the other players the second game. You have to do that to see what the other ballplayers can do."

Modica had no qualms about his team's play the first game. Considering they hadn't played a game since April 1, he felt the team's performance was strong.

"We hit the ball and scored runs. Anyone you can score runs, you can stay in the ballgame," Modica said. "I thought we played pretty well in the field defensively. After laying off long and making only one error in the field, that's good."

The fifth inning proved to be South's most productive inning offensively. Going into the inning with a 3-2 lead, South took advantage of an Edwardsville error and wild pitch to score three runs.

Greathouse started the rally, earning second base on the overthrow at first. Joe Schnefke then doubled down the right field line to score Greathouse. A triple by John Linhart scored Schnefke and Linhart scored on a wild pitch, giving South a 6-2 lead. Edwardsville then scored two runs in the fifth inning and one run in the sixth inning to close the gap to 6-5. But then Schnefke decided to take things in his own hands the seventh inning to give South an insurance run.

On first base from a walk, Edwardsville tried to pick off Schnefke. The throw was caught by catcher, and Schnefke went to third base on aggressive baserunning. He then scored on a wild pitch.

Even though the run wasn't needed for the win, Modica realized the mental significance of it. "Every run counts. Every hit counts. Joe's hustling got us that run," Modica said. "I always feel we can score runs. If the players get that attitude, it will carry through."

George Diak earned the win for South, pitching 6 and one-third innings. After Edwardsville loaded the bases on a single and two walks, Dominic Griffin relieved Diak, getting the last two outs of the game.

Although Diak's pitching statistics weren't outstanding, his performance was steady. "When you give up seven walks and nine hits, many times you don't win the ball game," Modica said. "George gets in trouble because of his own doing and then he gets upset. He knows the drill."

Modica was pleased with the Griffin's performance in relief. He thought Griffin's pitching might be off since he had been out of action for a week because of a trip to Greece. Although he struck out three times as South's designated hitter, he killed Edward-sville's hopes for a win by getting the last two batters on a strike out and a fly ball.

Griffin now has two wins and a save, all in relief. He has only pitched three and two-thirds innings to earn these statistics.

In the second game, Edwardsville scored six runs in the fifth inning to break open the game. Although credited with the loss, Modica felt Mike Zukas, South's starting pitcher, pitched well.

"He didn't do a bad job. He walked only four," Modica said. "He just didn't get a lot of support."

Defensively, South committed four errors in the second game. The most damaging error came in the fifth inning when a double play ball was booted. Instead of the second and third outs being recorded, Edwardsville extended their lead.

After Edwardsville scored three more runs in the sixth inning, the game was called because of the 10-run rule.

John McEnroe.

Initially, the name brings to mind tennis, or the best tennis player in the world. But if you linger on the thought for any length of time, the name might bring to mind an excellent young tennis player whose tennis game has matured to the pinnacle of the sport. McEnroe is the best there is, but anyone would admit he still needs to mature mentally.

Apparently, for John McEnroe, that time has come. Following his temper tantrum at Wimbledon last year, McEnroe became a marked man — he'd been labeled a pouter, a spoiled kid, the Nastase of the '80's and even "Superbrat."

In a sport where there used to be an emphasis on etiquette, McEnroe was considered an outcast, even a degenerate.

Monday, McEnroe made an appearance at Famous Barr before his exhibition play at Kiel Auditorium to sign autographs. He fielded several questions about himself, tennis and the Davis Cup in a manner that can only be described as cool and collected.

Some questions from the media were obviously aimed at getting a rise out of the champion netter. It didn't happen. St. Louis saw a different John McEnroe.

He was poised, personal and even polite — things as remotely associated with McEnroe as a snowball at Wimbledon.

He talked proudly about America Cup play, the United States in upcoming Davis Cup play.

He acted like the champion he is should have. Evidently, McEnroe is desperately trying to improve his image. He has been apologizing to everyone for his actions at Wimbledon last summer. He apologized Monday calling his behavior "regrettable."

Calling McEnroe's behavior at Wimbledon is probably an understatement. But all that is behind McEnroe. He's starting anew.

Being number one in the world has apparently changed McEnroe for the better. Perhaps now he feels he should set an example. Whatever the reason, the change is welcome.

Firemen benefit game Friday

The second annual benefit basketball game featuring the Long Lake and Mitchell Fire Departments is scheduled for this Friday, April 16, at the Grigsby Junior High School gymnasium.

Members from both departments will play in the game, as well as several Junior Firemen from Long Lake and several firemen's sons from Mitchell.

Proceeds from the first annual game were donated to Mitchell School to purchase gym equipment. This year's proceeds will go to Nameoki School to help purchase computer equipment for their school.

Members from both departments have agreed to play benefit games each year to benefit children who

Sports of All Sorts

By AL BARNES

Cougar Gary (Bo) Collins' Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team is really red-hot. Yesterday, at Cougar Field, the Missouri Baptist College Spartans felt the full fury of SIUE's powerful offense and tight defense.

The Cougars, now 18-3, romped over Missouri Baptist, 17-2, and 5 to 1, and in the process ran their winning streak to 10 in a row. Playing a key role in the Cougars' terrific surge is Granite (North) City's Tommy Greco, who leads the SIUE team in batting with a sensational .430 average and a club-high 35 runs batted in. In the lead-off game against Missouri Baptist, Tommy was only one for three, but scored three runs. In the second game, after the visitors had taken a first-inning one-run lead, Greco quickly dashed the Spartans' hopes in the home half at bat by blasting out a three-run fourbagger, his fifth of the season.

His play at first base, too, has been outstanding. Greco's eight triples not only leads the Cougars, but also points up another talent of the big first baseman: his speed. He's much faster than one would think from his size. He can ... and does ... really move. His speed will add at least 20 to 30 points to his batting average over a campaign.

As the Cougars cross their fingers as they bear down on the school's longest winning streak, 17 in 1972 season, it is more than apt to remember that another Granite City athlete and top hurler, Don Rains, played a key role in setting that long record.

With coach Roy E. Lee at the helm, the Cougars cruised into Springfield, Mo., that spring for a, what mean, crucial series. Both Southwest Missouri State and the Cougars were top contenders for a post-season tournament bid.

The Southwest Missouri Bears were really sailing along with an unbeaten record of 19 straight victories when the two teams took the field at Meador Park in Springfield, Mo.

On the mound for Southwest was the Bears' ace, Bob

Watkins, who, as it turned down lost only one game in four years of college hurling ... this one.

And, on the mound for the Cougars was SIUE's crafty control pitcher, Don Rains. The little right-hander was nothing but magnificent as he turned back Coach Billy Rowe's Bears on a one-hit, 1-0 shutout as the Cougars could produce only one run for Rains, and that on a terrific hit-and-run play in the leadoff frame. Steve Malone beat the Bears, 4-0, to extend SIUE's streak to 17.

Tax hike proposals block tax cut effort

By JIM SCHLUETER
For the second straight election year, major tax cut referendums will be kept off the November ballot in Madison County.

The National Taxpayers United of Illinois, a Chicago-based group, had tried unsuccessfully to get big tax cuts on the November 1980 ballot, and it had begun to try again in 1982. Small reductions were approved two years ago.

The Madison County Board has voted to put three tax increases on the fall 1982 ballot.

Two call for special taxes to help the county's nursing and sheltered care homes, and the third would help pay for police protection in unincorporated areas of the county.

A 1980 state law says that only three referendums may appear on one year's ballot, which means that there can be no more referendums presented to the voters this fall.

NTU president James Tobin said from his Chicago office that his group will respond by attempting to remove the law restricting the number of referendums allowed in one year.

"It's just another blatant move by the county board members of Madison County," Tobin said. "We intend to reverse the limitation that keeps taxpayers from limiting their taxes."

In 1980, NTU tried to get tax cuts of 25 percent in five county funds, but the group was thwarted when former Appellate Judge George Moran filed three petitions calling for three smaller tax cuts.

Those three proposals were passed in the November 1980 election, and they were effective for only one year.

This year, the county board placed the proposed special taxes for the sheltered care and nursing homes on the ballot because the two are large burdens on the county's beleaguered general fund.

Tobin, however, said the proposals were designed to block his group's tax cuts.

The tax takers have been advised by their lobbyists in Springfield to use this move, and many county board members across the state are admitting it publicly," he said.

"It's actually a conspiracy of county board members across the state to harm taxpayers."

for him. George's yacht was named for his beautiful wife, Joan.

George was his own boss, and he could well afford to do what he wanted, but through a series of circumstances and the dishonesty of a financial empire collapsed. The only thing which was salvageable after this experience was his citrus ranch, which he sold for cash to buy an annuity for his old age. He knew he had to start life over or give up.

He added up his assets, his health, interests and George summed it up for me: "This may be my chance to be a real farmer, a real dirt farmer."

He had to do the physical work, which he had provided, he had employed two men to do, to be able to meet expenses. His face began to tan, his body became strong, his hands calloused, and his spirit came up smiling.

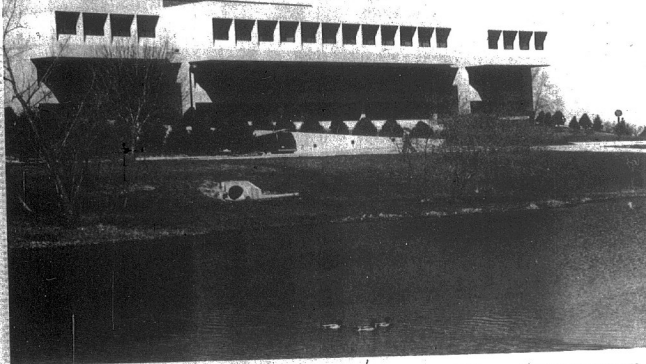

It was difficult to tell whether he had really tried to play evenings or the crates of oranges he sent to old friends and the hospitals to which he once heavily contributed.

The son who was months before emotionally a great distance from his dad came back and began to work with his father on the ranch.

He said that if it is happiness that you are after, the largest person you can aim at is steady work that you enjoy, continuous self-improvement and study, to acquire his fortune, his happiness was something he ran after.

Dr. A.J. Cronen, an eminent psychologist, has written a book on happiness, which, he pursued, assure happiness according to his experience. These are seeking wealth, trying to reform the world, leisure as an end in itself.

Equal Rights report Friday on Channel 9

Who Will Protect the Family? is a special report on the people who have fought for and against ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

From the backrooms of state legislatures to pulpits of the born-again brigades, the politicians, activists and followers have shared their views and concerns over the future of the ERA, a spokesman for KETC-TV Channel 9, says.

Who Will Protect the Family? will air Friday, April 16, at 9 p.m., coinciding with the period when several legislatures will be confronted with their last chance to vote on this issue as the June 30 deadline for ratification approaches.

The documentary chronicles the last three years of a heated struggle in North Carolina between activists of the Christian conservative movement and the more liberal women's movement.

Central focus of the special report is the evolving lives of two North Carolina activists: a feminist, Beth McAllister, who fights for legal and economic change, and Marilyn Devries, who heads a crusade for a return to traditional morality.

Each woman had debated, lobbied and organized statewide against the other. Yet, both are similarly conventional middle-class wives and mothers, community volunteers and born-again Christians.

Highlights of the program include an interview with Senator Jesse Helms (R-N.C.); a debate between ERA organizers and women workers in a rural North Carolina hosiery mill; the first pro-ERA march ever held in the state; the Father's Day service at the church of Moral Majority chairman Rev. H. Lammert Mooneyham; and confrontations between conservative and women's movement leaders.

The concluding segment looks at the future impact of both movements as the activists move beyond ERA to take on a wide spectrum of issues affecting women and the family.

REV. CHARLES FIELDS First service for Rev. Fields

The Rev. Charles Reginald Fields, associate minister at New Salem Baptist Church, will preach his first sermon Sunday at the 11 a.m. service at the church, 1349 Klein St., Venice.

He was called into the ministry on Sunday, Feb. 21, 1982, after serving for some time as the church pianist, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, who was installed as pastor of New Salem on March 7.

Rev. Fields is a former resident of Madison and Venice and attended the Madison schools. He now resides in East St. Louis with his wife, the former Rose Hill, and daughter, Tamika, 4, and LaShonda, 10.

The new minister is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Fields of Mulberry Grove, Ill., formerly of Madison. Sunday's service will include special music and the public is invited to attend, Rev. Williams said.
